

MRS. EDWARDS GETS A REPRIEVE

HE PLUNGED KNIFE INTO HER FACE

Beautiful Mrs. Lawrence
Will Bear Scars
For Life.

Mrs. Laura I. Lawrence, wife of George E. Lawrence, club man and capitalist, was stabbed in the neck and cheek by her husband, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in their residence, 2655 Piedmont avenue.

NARROW ESCAPE.

She had a narrow escape from almost instantaneous death and will be disfigured for life. The attack upon her is said to have been inspired by jealousy, Mrs. Lawrence being considered a beautiful woman. She says her husband intended to kill her.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Owing to domestic infidelity and a pending suit for divorce which Mrs. Lawrence brought only a few days ago, the couple have been living apart for about two months. Mrs. Lawrence went to live with a Mrs. Sprinkle, a next door neighbor. Mrs. William E. Burton, a friend of Mrs. Lawrence, also boards with Mrs. Sprinkle. Mr. Lawrence has been occupying the family residence with an old man named "Jim," who has lived with the family several years, working around the house and yard.

SHE WENT HOME.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock Mrs. Lawrence, knowing her husband was not at home, went over to the house to get some of her personal effects and some clothing for her infant daughter Rhoda.

While standing at the telephone talking with some one down town, Mr. Lawrence came home and entered the room. Mrs. Lawrence's story of what happened, as told afterwards to Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Sprinkle, is that her husband attacked her with a knife while her back was partly turned toward him. She had no warning and no knowledge of impending danger till she felt the keen knife cutting through her face and neck. Mrs. Lawrence screamed, dropped the telephone receiver and sank down, lying partly on the floor and partly on a couch. Mr. Lawrence then hurriedly left the house. She says he was intoxicated.

DOCTOR CALLED.

Dr. Bell, one of the house physicians of Fabiola Hospital, which is only about two blocks away from the Lawrence residence, was soon on the scene. The flow of blood was soon stopped and the wounds dressed. Dr. Bell said this morning:

"Jim, the old man, came into the hospital, shortly after 5 o'clock, almost out of breath. He said:

"Mrs. Lawrence had been stabbed by her husband and entreated us to come immediately. Mrs. Lawrence was greatly excited and bleeding profusely. The wound is a superficial one extending from below the right eye down across the cheek. It is jagged and of varying depth, and will leave a scar. At the jawbone the knife jumped down to her neck and shoulder, making a cut just over the collar bone, and missing the carotid artery by a fraction of an inch. The cut then extends down over the shoulder blade. Mrs. Lawrence evidently turned when she felt herself being cut. This, probably caused the knife to miss the carotid artery, one of the arteries which feeds the brain. If that artery had been cut, Mrs. Lawrence would have been dead before we could have reached her."

IN POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning Lawrence was committed to jail for 30 days.

READING, PA., FEBRUARY 15.—WHEN THE NEWS OF THE REHEARING IN THE GREASON CASE AND A CONTINUANCE FOR MRS. EDWARDS WAS SENT TO THE ROPE BROKE AT HANGING AT BRIDGETON.

Body Falls to Ground and People
Turn From Gruesome Sight.

BRIDGETON, Conn., February 15.—Frank Raisinger was hanged here today for the murder of his wife. The rope broke as the body rebounded and the back of Raisinger's head struck a cross-beam of the scaffold and broke Raisinger's neck. The physicians present said death was instantaneous. It was therefore not necessary to raise the body again to the scaffold.

Shudders ran through those who had assembled to witness the hanging as the rope parted and Raisinger's body fell to the ground. Nearly every one present turned his head from the gruesome sight. Sheriff Dement said after the hanging that he was unable to account for the snapping of the cord, as it had been tested with a weight more than 100 pounds heavier than Raisinger's body.

AFTER GIANT TRUST

Metcalf Ordered to Investigate Standard
Oil Company.

Asked to Get Facts for United States to Bring Suit.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—The resolution adopted in the House today relating to petroleum was presented by Representative Campbell of Kansas, and is as follows:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of Commerce and Labor be and he hereby is requested to investigate the cause or causes of the low price of crude oil or petroleum in the United States, and especially in the Kansas oil field, and the unusually large margins between the price of crude oil or petroleum and the selling price of refined oil and its by-products, and whether the said conditions have resulted in whole or in part from any contract, combination in the form of a

BITTER DISCORD BETWEEN FAMILY STOESSEL AND NAVY.

Indications Are That There Will Be Many Charges at Court Martial in Russia.

PARIS, February 15.—French special correspondents sent to meet the French steamer Austrailien, having on board General Stoessel and others of the survivors of Port Arthur, forwarded detailed accounts of discord among the Russian officers. The army officers are particularly hostile to the fleet, habitually calling it the "frightened fleet." Admiral Lochinsky, who was commander of the torpedo defenses at Port Arthur, is lengthily quoted as making bitter criticism of General Stoessel, Admiral Alexieff and others.

BED CHAMBER ADMIRALS.

The Matin quoted Lochinsky as characterizing Vice-Admiral Stark and Rear-Admiral Witthoft as "bed chamber Admirals not acquainted with their duties and seasick whenever afloat."

The Admiral added that Vice-Admiral Skrydloff prudently established himself ashore at Vladivostok, notwithstanding his opportunity to break the ineffective blockade of Port Arthur. Lochinsky declared he would denounce Stoessel, Skrydloff and Alexieff before the court martial as he did not intend to let himself be made a scapegoat like Rear-Admiral Ouktomsky, "who now trembles with fear in a Chinese hospital." Lochinsky cited many instances of the unpreparedness of the land and naval defenses, frequent conflicts of authority and demoralization during critical engagements.

STOESSEL SARCASTIC.

Substantially the same account is given by four French newspapers, which describe General Stoessel and Admiral Lochinsky as refusing to speak to or salute each other. The papers say the discord among the officers forebodes grave scenes before the court martial.

The Petit Parisien quotes General Stoessel as sarcastically saying:

"Rojestvensky had better not establish too secure a base along the route or, like the naval officers at Port Arthur, it will be impossible to let them venture seaward."

The correspondent of the Petit Parisien adds:

RETURNS HATRED.

"General Stoessel cannot pardon the navy's failure to succor him, while the navy fully returns his hatred."

The French special correspondents conclude that the fortress fell largely because of the regrettable quarrels among the officers.

"THAT'S HIM; THAT'S HIM;" SAYS THE LADY.

CHICAGO, February 15.—Mrs. Elsie Brucker of Chicago today created a scene at the inquest of Mrs. Marie Walker Hoch by exclaiming "that's him, that's him," and pointing her finger at Hoch.

She identified Hoch as a man who had swindled her out of $450 two years ago on pretense of selling her a farm in Michigan. Hoch smiled at the woman sarcastically, but in contrast to his nervousness at the opening of the inquest last week Hoch today presented a neat appearance and wore a self-reliant air.

When the hearing was resumed after the interruption Coroner Hoffman announced that the expert medical testimony would not be presented until next Monday, when all the evidence regarding analysis of the woman's stomach in connection with the theory of poisoning will be submitted.

AFTER HIDING IN MANY LANDS OWEN KELLY IS CAUGHT.

LOS ANGELES, February 15.—Owen Kelly, the former wealthy grocer of Philadelphia, who was arrested on the streets of this city Monday night, is still confined in the city prison awaiting advices from the East.

The police are holding Kelly on information from the police authorities of Philadelphia stating that he is wanted there, but since Kelly was taken into custody, no further advice as to the exact nature of the charges against him, have been received.

DECLINES INTERVIEW.

Kelly admits his identity, and confessed to the police that he left the Eastern city under a financial cloud, following which he fled to Europe and thence to Australia, before finally returning to this country. He refuses to give further information concerning his affairs and declines to be interviewed in return to the charges against him.

HE WEEPS.

The police say that Kelly sits in his cell, weeping constantly and appears to be on the verge of nervous prostration. He has asked for an interview with Bishop Conaty of this Roman Catholic diocese, but so far it has not been arranged.

HE DISAPPEARED.

PHILADELPHIA, February 15.—Captain Donahy of the Detective Department, today received the following telegram from the Los Angeles police:

"Bishop Conaty has positively identified the man under arrest as Owen Kelly. Advise us what action to take."

Captain Donahy at once sent a message requesting the Los Angeles authorities to detain Kelly and stating that he would send a member of his force to bring him back to Philadelphia. Detective Ducey will start for Los Angeles tomorrow. Kelly is not wanted by the police here, but his family and friends have been searching for him since October 25, when he disappeared.

BERKELEY CLUB IN SESSION.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—At the meeting of the North Berkeley Improvement Club last night President Bagot was presented with a handsome gavel.

Ways and means for increasing the interest in and attendance at the club meetings were discussed, it being suggested that a card party might prove an attraction.

The president appointed the following committee to recommend suitable diversion: B. F. Bradshaw, Thomas Stevenson and C. E. Harmon.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Attorney Holman's Wife
Seriously Injured;
Children Slightly.

The family of Attorney E. A. Holman, a well known practitioner at the Alameda County Bar, was thrown out of a cart in a runaway accident this morning shortly after 10 o'clock at the corner of Fallon and Twelfth streets and Mrs. Holman is lying in a precarious condition at the Receiving Hospital in consequence.

Her little six-year-old son Jeneaux had his collar bone broken, while the little girl Dorothy, aged twelve and the baby, Edward, aged sixteen months, escaped with only a few bruises.

The mother and her three children were driving in a little two wheeled pony cart when the animal took fright at a peanut stand as they came up Twelfth street from Lake Merritt and ran away. He made a short turn into Fallon street and the cart and horse went over in a heap.

Mrs. Holman struck on her head and was taken up unconscious by Dr. J. Purves, who placed her in his buggy and drove her immediately to the Receiving Hospital.

The children were cared for by William White the painter, who put them into his wagon and took them to the Hospital after the mother.

An examination of the children showed that only one of them was seriously hurt. The baby began to laugh at his crying brother and tried to attract his attention, but the lad was in considerable pain and the bone had to be set by Dr. C. E. Curdiss, who responded quickly to the emergency call.

In regard to the condition of Mrs. Holman he is unable to state how serious her injury may be.

The brain is affected and some hours will have to elapse before the conditions will enable an intelligent diagnosis to be made.

Attorney Holman was summoned by telephone from his office in the Blake & Moffitt Building and was soon comforting his children and took them home.

None of them would ride after their pet which, after its stumble struggled to its feet was afterwards captured with the cart still attached, although somewhat broken. The pony was cut in numerous places but not seriously injured.

The child Dorothy stated that her mother had the baby in her lap and held to it when she fell and it is believed that it was in trying to save her child that she received her own injury as she was unable to put out an arm to save her striking the ground.

CAMPBELL TAKEN TO PRISON

MANY FRIENDS OF CONVICTED
WIFE MURDERER BID HIM GOOD-BYE.

Lemuel D. Campbell, who on Monday morning was sentenced to ten years at San Quentin for the murder of his wife was taken across the bay this morning by Jailer Harry Clark.

There were a number of his relatives and friends at the jail to say goodbye to him and he left in good spirits with the anticipation that at the end of his term he will begin life anew.

Under the rule evolved by the convicts for the calculating the length of their terms with the allowance of credits Campbell can get out in six and a half years.

The rule is to multiply the number of years by seven, add eight and divide by twelve. He was sentenced to ten years which multiplied by seven would make seventy, eight added would be seventy-eight, which divided by twelve will give a result of six and a half.

KANSAS BATTLES WITH STANDARD OIL.

State Oil Refinery Bill the Great Issue at Legislature Today.

TOPEKA, Kan., February 15.—The supporters of the bill providing for the purchase by the State of an oil refinery won a partial victory in the House today. As a special order of business the House, in committee of the whole, considered the bill previously passed by the Senate fixing a maximum railroad freight rate for the transportation of crude oil, and the bill preventing discrimination between localities in selling any commodity in general use.

The bill fixing maximum freight rates was recommended to the House and later passed just as it came from the Senate, but the enemies of the anti-discrimination measure succeeded, after a hard fight, in referring the bill to the judiciary committee.

The later committee is ordered to report on the constitutionality of the measure and it has been set for consideration on Friday.

IN THE HOUSE.

While it is believed the action of the House on the anti-discrimination bill does not indicate that the measure will be killed, the friends of the bill are said to be worried over the prospects. The bill is one which the supporters of the State refinery bill consider necessary in connection with the refinery, as it would prevent the oil trust, so called, from underselling the State in any locality unless the rate there should be made to apply to the entire State. The opposition to the anti-discrimination bill came from the members who represent the jobbing and wholesale centers of the State.

A recess for lunch was taken before the State refinery bill, which is the most important of the oil legislation now up, was considered.

STANDARD OIL.

Legislation providing for the building by the State of an oil refinery of its own, the fight for which caused the Standard Oil Company recently to issue an order stopping the purchase of that product in the sunflower State, came up today in the House as a special order. The measure had already passed the Senate. Speaker Stubbs, who last week opposed the refinery bill, has since then expressed an opinion in favor of the measure. The order for business in the House today was declared as follows:

Senator Fitzpatrick's bill establishing maximum rates for transportation of oil, which has passed the Senate; second, Senator Smith's bill to prohibit discrimination in railroad rates, passed by the Senate. The State oil refinery bill comes up at 2 o'clock.

Senator Fitzpatrick's bill was taken up in committee of the whole.

After a lively debate, Representative Hackney moved that the bill pass. The bill immediately passed the House.

THE BOARD'S DECISION, SAID: "I KNEW IT COULD NOT BE OTHERWISE."

THE HEARING.

HARRISBURG, Pa., February 15.—On recommendation of the Board of Pardons today Governor Pennypacker today withdrew the death warrants in the case of Mrs. Kate Edwards, the white woman, and Samuel Greason, the negro, who were under sentence to hang together at Reading tomorrow for the murder of Mrs. Edwards' husband in 1901.

WILL HAVE TO APPEAL IT.

The case of Greason will now be again taken to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and if that tribunal refuses to reopen the case the attorneys for Mrs. Edwards and Greason will have to appear before the Board of Pardons next month.

The Supreme courtroom was crowded with spectators when the Board of Pardons convened to take up the case. In the crowd were many members of the Legislature and also the Ohio delegation of women who presented the monster petition to the Governor yesterday in behalf of the condemned woman.

PARDON BOARD.

When the Pardon Board, which is made up of W. M. Brown, Lieutenant-Governor; Frank M. Fuller, secretary of the commonwealth; Hampton L. Carson, Attorney-General, and Isaac B. Brown, secretary of internal affairs, met today, Elwood H. Doysher of counsel for Mrs. Edwards made a motion that her case be continued. He made this motion, he said, because Mrs. Edwards had confessed that she had committed the crime and that Greason had no hand in it, and because counsel for Greason wanted to take depositions and also examine Mrs. Edwards with regard to the authenticity of the confession. Counsel for Greason, he said, would not be able to do this if the case of Mrs. Edwards was not continued because they were both under sentence to hang tomorrow.

NEW WITNESSES.

John H. Rothermel and William H. Sadler, attorneys for Greason, supported Mr. Doysher and also pleaded for a rehearing in the case of their client. Mr. Sadler informed the Board that he had four witnesses in behalf of Greason who had never been examined.

The Board after deliberating twenty minutes announced that the Board had decided to take up both cases and immediately continue them.

REASON FOR ACTION.

The reason for the Board's action was read by the Attorney-General. It is as follows:

"In view of the dissent on the part of three justices of the Supreme Court from the opinion of the court in refusing the petition of Samuel Greason for an order authorizing a new trial and in view of the statement of counsel for Greason that there are four witnesses never before examined whose depositions they desire to take and present to the Supreme Court for its consideration, the application for a continuance in the Edwards' case is granted and the application for a rehearing in the Greason case is granted."

WILL TAKE UP CASES.

After the announcement of the Board's decision, Lieutenant-Governor Brown informed the attorneys for Greason and Mrs. Edwards that both cases would be taken up next month, together, by the Board, unless the Supreme Court in the meantime interfered. He expressed the opinion privately that the matter ought to be settled by a jury in Berks county.

WANTS NEW TRIAL.

The lawyers for Greason will now apply to the Supreme Court for an order reopening his case in order to hear the four new witnesses found by his attorneys. If the Supreme Court grants the order the case will go back to Berks county for retrial. In the meantime Mrs. Edwards' case will be continued. But if the Supreme Court refuses the order then the Board of Pardons will have to decide the case at its next meeting, which will be the third Wednesday in March.

MANY DEATH WARRANTS.

Greason's case has been in the Supreme Court six times and twice before the Board of Pardons. The death warrant has been read to him ten times. Mrs. Edwards' case has never been in the Supreme Court, but the Board of Pardons has twice refused to commute her sentence.

After the Governor was officially informed of the action of the Pardon Board a messenger was sent to the Sheriff of Berks county withdrawing the death warrants.

After she had been composed Mrs. Edwards said:

"Thank God. You could not have brought me better news. I know that I've done a great wrong but I'm not such a bad woman at heart. I thank God again and I thank all my friends."

DEATH WATCH.

READING, Pa., February 15.—The death watch set on Mrs. Kate Edwards reports that she did not sleep last night. She lay on her cot all night moaning and crying piteously. She did not touch a morsel of food this morning. If the execution takes place the officials realize that she must be carried to the scaffold and probably strapped to a board.

Greason slept soundly. He has not given up hope of being pardoned. Sheriff Sassaman has made every preparation for the hanging. The scaffold is ready to be put together and the rope has been delivered. The execution will be conducted by the Sheriff personally.

SIGNS WARRANT.

HARRISBURG, Pa., February 15.—Governor Pennypacker today signed an order withdrawing the death warrant of Mrs. Kate Edwards and Samuel Greason. A clerk left for Reading on an afternoon train to deliver the order to the Sheriff of Berks county.

Mrs. Lawrence through her attorney, Thomas Bradley, has notified Chief of Police Hodgkins that she intends prosecuting her husband. On a previous occasion when there was trouble between the two the wife refused to prosecute and may relent in this case although she states that she will demand that her husband be prosecuted on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

PAUL GILMORE AT MACDONOUGH

Paul Gilmore, the young actor who is so rapidly forging his way to the head of the American constellation of actors, will again appear in this city at the Macdonough Theater to-night and to-morrow night only in that most impressive, interesting and clean-cut play entitled, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which he achieved such universal success everywhere the past season in the role of the scientist so deeply interested in his experiments as to be at times oblivious to the outside world, his wife, inclusive, thereby winning the admiration of the "Mummy." Mr. Gilmore has a part with many opportunities for doing the most excellent work in his career.

"DOLPHY, YOU KNOW WHO DID THIS."

Finger of Suspicion Was Pointed at Accused After the Fire at Auburn.

AUBURN, February 15.—When court convened in the Weber case this morning Judge Prewett requested counsel on both sides to confer regarding fixing the order of arguments and inform him of their decision.

The first witness, Elmer Coddington, said that he got to the fire early and saw McKinsley climbing upon the upper porch. He saw the furniture handed out and saw that the north parlor window was broken. Mr. Henry and Mrs. Snowden were by the front steps. Guy Lukens met Adolph after the alarm was sounded. Adolph asked where the fire was and the witness said: "Up at your house, Dolphy."

"DOLPHY, YOU KNOW."

Mrs. E. C. Snowden testified to conversation with Adolph the morning after the fire. She shook her finger in his face, and said: "Dolphy, you know who did this," and he answered: "How dare you say so, when I have lived here all my life and have a good reputation."

J. M. Hamilton drove a bus to the fire and saw Mrs. Weber's body. It was put in the bus and taken to Dr. Rooney's, then to Dr. Todd's and, neither being home, to the Freeman Hotel.

HEARD A CRASH. J. C. Campbell saw Christopher Henry

holding Mrs. Snowden. He stood near the south window of the piano room when Herbert Morrow went in and he went in behind him. The room was full of smoke, but there was no fire. He heard no crash of glass, and saw no one in the room. He ran against Ruth and knew him. Ruth said "there is somebody," and they picked Bertha's body up and carried it out.

FOUND BOY.

George Ruth found the little boy and carried him out. He did not see Adolph at any time till after the fire was over. Miss Theo Willis told of bandaging Adolph's hand. He asked her to see about his folks and she afterwards told him that they were doing as well as could be expected. He went down town then. He said he knew his brother was alive, for he took him out. Mrs. Nellie Willis also told of the dressing of Adolph's wound. She heard him speak of his brother and say he knew he was alive, because he carried him out. Miss Margaret Willis testified similarly.

FIRST BODY.

W. F. Knief testified that he was at the fire and saw the first body taken out. He went toward the window and saw a decree by default. Jonathan Fulton, a deputy sheriff helped to take Mrs. Weber out. Her head had dropped down when she was put in the bus and that satisfied him that she was dead.

RULED OUT.

Attorney Johnson offered a document purporting to be a certificate from the police commissioners of San Francisco that Henry Carr had no license at the time he claimed to have sold the pistol to Adolph, but the court promptly ruled it out, as not pertinent to any issue of the case. He also ruled out an offer of evidence regarding licenses and the selling of slungshots on the same grounds.

SPIRITED FIGHT IN ASSEMBLY

Amendment Relative to School Books is Passed.

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—In one of the most spirited fights on the floor of the House during the entire session of the Legislature, the Assembly today adopted the constitutional amendment offered by Speaker Prescott, submitting to the people the question of furnishing the pupils of the public schools textbooks free of charge.

The vote was 61 to 13 in favor of the adoption of the proposed amendment.

JUSTICE'S SALARIES.

Assemblyman McCartney's constitutional amendment proposing to raise the salaries of the Supreme Court justices from $6000 to $8000 a year was passed by the House, the vote being 62 to 10.

NEW CHARTER.

A concurrent resolution ratifying the Pasadena charter amendments was adopted by the Assembly. The resolution was vigorously opposed by Stanton of Los Angeles, who said that the provision in the amendments providing for the recall of officials was vicious.

GANG OF BOYS IN ROUGH-HOUSE

BERKELEY, February 15.—A disturbance was caused last night in the neighborhood of Hilgard and Scenic avenues by a gang of boys, who destroyed a flower garden on the property of Henry Schacht of 2436 Hilgard avenue. Schacht sent word to the police office asking for help and Deputy Marshal Gore was dispatched to the place. The boys, however, had disappeared before he arrived.

MERCHANT TAKE YOUR SIGN DOWN SAYS THE MAYOR.

No Sign Lights Over Sidewalk and Business Men and Theaters Cannot Make Display.

Mayor Olney this morning issued instructions to W. W. Blair, formerly street inspector, but now deputy superintendent of streets, to notify all merchants on Broadway and Washington streets to take down all signs which extend over the sidewalk.

There has been much complaint since the signs on the sidewalk were removed that the order did not extend to those signs which extended over the sidewalk, but which were attached to some portion of the building. According to the new dictum of the Mayor all signs swinging into the street will have to be removed.

There are as many signs almost which are unlawfully maintained now as there were before.

The street belongs to the public from the property line straight up and down and private parties, according to the Mayor have no right to encroach on the street, either above or below the ground.

The work of taking down signs will commence at once. Deputy Superintendent of Streets Blair, after notifying the merchants of the new order of the Mayor, will have a crew of men at his disposal to assist in the work.

DIVORCES ARE GRANTED

WOMEN ARE DISSATISFIED WITH THEIR MARRIED LIFE.

A divorce was granted A. F. Chapman this morning from Theresa Chapman on the ground of desertion by Judge Ellisworth. The testimony went to show that she had willfully left his home.

Antone Pavia was granted a divorce from Mary G. Pavia on the ground of desertion. The wife put in no defense to the charge alleged and he was granted a decree by default.

A final decree of divorce was granted Ida Wittich from Jacob Wittich for desertion. The interlocutory decree in the matter was entered a year ago and today was made final.

Death made final a decree of divorce prayed for by Doris L. Norton from Eugene W. Norris and to-day she dismissed the action begun in the lower court.

WOMEN APPEAR IN COURT

WIVES OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS AT TRIAL OF BATTERY CASE.

BERKELEY, February 15.—The wives of several University professors occupied seats in Justice Edger's courtroom during the trial of William Johnson, charged with battery on Ah Quong, a Chinese cook. The women in question were Mrs. E. B. Clapp and Mrs. T. R. Bacon. Professor B. Nutting of the University and Mrs. L. Raymond were also present as witnesses.

The assault on Ah Quong occurred on January 21, on Heurst avenue. The Chinese received a stunning blow on the side of the head from a rock, which was apparently thrown by one of the occupants of a delivery wagon. The Chinese was taken to the University Hospital. Clapp and his wounded dressed Professor Nutting and Mrs. Raymond testified to having seen the assault.

William Johnson and M. Connelly were on the delivery wagon at the time and were arrested later. They demanded separate trials and Johnson's turn was first. He was found guilty. Sentence will be pronounced next Monday.

PICKPOCKETS ARE ARRAIGNED

TRIO OF ALLEGED CROOKS IN COURT—TESTIMONY TAKEN.

George Thompson, Morris Murphy and Albert J. Norton, the three alleged pickpockets who were arrested last Sunday on a charge of having robbed J. D. Inglow on the Seventh street local were arraigned before Police Judge Samuels this morning.

Their examinations were set for February 25, 27 and 28.

The testimony of A. E. O'aver, a miner, who is charged to go to Tonopah this evening, was taken by Judge Samuels. O'aver stated that he had been instrumental in catching Norton, alias Paddy Irish, and Murphy at the corner of Eleventh and Oak streets.

O'aver says that Norton declared that he was an innocent person and that Inglow, the man who was robbed, was crazy.

If you are innocent you need have no fear of going to the police station," replied O'aver, holding on to the alleged criminal.

This ended the testimony which will be resumed next week.

STEAL SILVERWARE. R. A. Olsen reported to the police this morning that the California Hall, on Clay street, had been broken into yesterday and $14 worth of silverware stolen. The police are investigating the robbery.

NOT "WHITE HAT'S" WIFE. The statement published last Friday that the wife of "White Hat" McCarty, the well-known horseman, had died, proves to be incorrect. Mrs. McCarty is enjoying excellent health.

A PROMISING YOUNG MAN. Nikola Tesla again promises to communicate with Mars before long. As a premier Mr. Tesla is several thousand times greater than an electrician.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF MURDER

Mrs. Koehn Makes Charge Against Daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Christina Koehn, mother of Edward Koehn, who was shot and killed by his wife, Mrs. Lena Koehn, today charged her daughter-in-law with murder.

The complaint was sworn to before Police Judge Samuels.

The facts recited are purely formal and do not touch upon the tragedy itself except to allege that murder was done.

The mother was very much agitated when she signed the complaint.

She cried violently and could scarcely write her name.

She used the German spelling, and wrote her name Mrs. Kohn.

The defendant will appear in court tomorrow.

THICKNESS OF SKIN. The skin of the men and women of some nations is much thicker than that of others, particularly in hot countries. The Central African negro has a skin about half as thick again as that of a European. That of a negro is thickest over the head and neck—evidently to form a protection from the sun.

SHORTHAND IN ANCIENT TIMES. An excavation at Herculaneum revealed a bond—date A. D. 400—apparently a slave for two years to the "semeiograph" to be taught to read and write shorthand on the signs that your son, Dionysius knows, the teacher receiving in all 20 drachmas—about $2.

W. H. CHICKERING REPLIES TO ENGINEER HOFFER.

Sharply Answers Criticism of Bay Cities Employee—Wants Fair Play.

Editor TRIBUNE—In one of the Oakland papers of the 13th instant, I found an article signed "Bay Cities Water Company per C. H. Hoffer."

Reference to the San Francisco directory tells me that Mr. Hoffer is a mining engineer with the Bay Cities Water Company and a resident of San Francisco.

I assume therefore that he speaks officially, and that his letter presents the strongest reasons why the Bay Cities Water Company thinks the citizens of Oakland should bond their property to acquire the plant offered by that company.

Before discussing the reasons set forth in Mr. Hoffer's letter, I want to express my regrets that in so many of the published articles, both editorial and otherwise, upon this question, so marked a tendency exists to wander from the real subject and to descend to personal attacks and allusions.

Slurs and innuendoes do not constitute argument, but evince a desire to appeal to passion and prejudice, and to inflame, when cool deliberation should be exercised.

It has been and will be my purpose to avoid personalities and to present the matter in a dignified manner.

The weakness of the position of the Bay Cities proposition is apparent from the paucity of argument advanced.

In place of reasoning we find language like the following:

"It is now squarely up to the citizens to determine whether they will acquire a municipal water supply of their own or continue in the thralls of the Contra Costa Water Company which has had them by the throat these many years. Plainly presented, the question is one of municipal slavery or municipal freedom. Do the electors of Oakland wish to continue the vassals of a private corporation that has never shown them mercy, or will they seek that independence that comes of municipal ownership of that essential commodity, an abundant supply of potable water."

I felt sure, as I read the foregoing language that the author was a school boy, or at most a Berkeley Sophomore, rather than an educated engineer of skill sufficient to justify his employment by the Bay Cities Water Company, and to be put forward as their sponsor.

Such talk is gallery play. It weighs, possibly, with unthinking people and inflames their minds; but the sober judgment is not influenced by such vaporings or by anything except facts. It is to these facts that I wish to address myself. In no communication since my first published letter have the facts therein set forth been challenged. In no communication since I put certain questions to the president of the Bay Cities Company has any attempt been made to answer the questions. And in this last letter the effort is not to explain but to inflame, and to endeavor by arousing hostility to the old water company to advance the interests of the new one.

If I were about to buy a house, a horse or any property I should want to see what I was to get before paying my money for it, and I should want what I was to get to be an actual existing thing, not a vague promise for a thing.

Doubtless I should be if I was expected to mortgage all my property to raise the money needed to acquire the thing.

It is true we cannot go to the mountains of Santa Clara county to inspect the property the Bay Cities Water Company claims to have under bond, or the water shed from which they are to acquire storm waters for our use. We cannot examine the proposed reservoir sites, the channel of Arroyo del Valle, down which the water, after being stored, is to run for thirteen miles, nor the number of cattle ranging over the property.

We must rely upon the reports of expert engineers for the facts regarding them.

Mr. Hoffer says: "The system included in the proposition of the Bay Cities Company is that recently unanimously recommended by the engineering board which was practically appointed by the citizens themselves through their official representatives."

This quoted statement is error. Everyone knows that one of the three engineers was the absolute appointment of the Bay Cities Company and that the third was selected by the other two.

And everyone is becoming pretty well aware of the fact that these three engineers spent only three days upon the property from which Oakland is asked to draw its water supply.

What sort of a report could be made after an examination of that sort. How can an intelligent man rely upon their report?

Yet the Bay Cities people, with their proposition veiled in secrecy, and with an absolute refusal to submit in advance their contract or their rights to us, who are asked to vote bonds in the sum of $6,000,000, tell us to trust them, and to trust our city authorities to make us secure.

Is there a business man in Oakland who would conduct his affairs upon similar lines? Why should we trust the Bay Cities Company when it will not trust us? Why should we trust the three experts, who spent only three days in their examination of a watershed, alleged to embrace 90 square miles, rather than Mr. Fitzgerald, an unbiased expert employed by the city alone, who made a thorough examination of the project and a report dealing in details and not in generalities. Not a cautious man in the city would do that in our every-day affairs.

That the Bay Cities Company asks us to go blindly ahead argues against their position. They have everything to gain, nothing to lose.

Why does not their President, their engineer, Mr. Hoffer or their counsel answer the questions I put to them? It matters not that I, who put them, am a lawyer. The questions are none the less pertinent, and our people have a right to demand information as to what we are to get for our money.

Shall we have a water system without water? What right have they to the waters we are expected to get? They admit the prospect of legal controversies. Can they assure us when this litigation will be settled? Who shall determine what storm waters they have the right to impound? Only the courts, and experience teaches us that we cannot look for a very speedy termination of these questions.

Will they guarantee to deliver to us twenty millions of gallons of potable water daily for a term of years? I call attention to this, because the million dollar bond, to which their advocate, Mr. Hoffer, so loves to refer, is but only a system capable of making that delivery. They should not hesitate to confirm the report of the experts whom they so praise.

Is a wooden pipe adapted to bring water sixty miles, and how long will they guarantee the pipe to last? Certainly in making so large an investment as we are asked to, for acquiring a new plant, we should get the best.

If it is true, and I have nowhere seen the assertion denied, that the wooden pipe is to run under the reservoir of the Spring Valley Water Company, what must follow in event of the destruction of, or injury to the wooden pipe buried at such a depth?

I say nothing now as to the interest upon the bonds, the fund that must year by year be provided for their redemption, the competition likely to follow in event the project carries, and the largely increased tax levy that must necessarily result.

These things can be calculated by ourselves, and the Bay Cities people, having received our money, will not be interested in our troubles.

I therefore say to Mr. Hoffer and his principals that the Bay Cities Water Company is not governed by the element of fairness which he alleges. They are, on the contrary, influenced by a strong desire to get rid of a white elephant, by promising to convey to us mere prospects, which may or may not, in time to come, ripen into realities.

For some unknown reason the City Council has seen fit to submit the bond question to us. I suppose they feel that their pledge, or that of their respective parties, governs them. It seems too bad to put us to the expense of an election. True, Bay Cities say we will pay these expenses if our titles are not satisfactory to the City Attorney or cannot be made satisfactory; but they carefully avoid any agreement as to the time within which these titles, if found defective, shall be cleared.

For these, among many reasons, I assert that the city of Oakland will be in far greater bondage if the people shall follow the leadings of the Bay Cities proponents than it now is, or could ever become, even if it should pay a million dollars more to acquire the plant of the old company than the proposed plant of the new one.

At another time I may take up some other features of their project. I have no desire to weary my fellow citizens with my views, but the letter of Mr. Hoffer seemed to me so intemperate as to justify an answer to his railings.

W. H. CHICKERING.

POKES FUN AT UNITED STATES

SARCASTIC RUSSIAN EDITORIAL ON THE ARBITRATION TREATIES.

ST. PETERSBURG, February 15.—The Novoye Vremya, in a sarcastic editorial, in connection with the arbitration treaties, pokes fun at the alleged attempt of the United States to take the leadership in the world's diplomacy.

The editorial reviews the project for preserving the administrative entity of China, the proposed naval demonstration in the waters of the republic of Panama, and the proposition to hold a second peace conference at The Hague, concluding with the comment that the United States is "anally" met the fate which always overtakes a new fad. Therefore, it is not to be wondered at that the Senate declines to yield to a scheme which places the settlement of future disputes entirely in the hands of President Roosevelt.

COLD AT KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 15.—The lowest temperature here today was 15 degrees below zero. A further rise is predicted for tomorrow.

Congressman Mann was in the chair the other day when Mr. Baker, of New York, was declaiming vigorously on the horrors of the Russian situation. "Words fail me," Mr. Speaker exclaimed, "words fail me." "Well, it's all the same," said the presiding officer calmly, "the gentleman's time has expired anyway."

AGED MEN ARE CO-OPERATIVE PIANO CLUBS ARE STARTED ALL OVER UNITED STATES

Oakland's Famous Piano Buying Plan is Being Adopted in Philadelphia, Portland, New York, Boston, Seattle, Denver, Pittsburgh and Chicago. Scores of letters are being received asking for the complete co-operative plan.

Akron, Ohio — POMMER-ELLERS MUSIC CO., Oakland, Cal.

Gentlemen—I note on page 18 of the "Musical Courier" an announcement of your famous co-operative plan. Will you kindly give me full particulars of it, as the music lovers of this city are deeply interested. Very truly yours, B. SMITH.

Wholesale and Retail Pianos. Stores in five cities. This is the nature of the scores of letters that are being received at the Pommer-Ellers store. No wonder Oakland has been stirred to her greatest musical depth, when the other cities of the United States are taking up the plan so eagerly. It is safe to say, that never before in the history of the piano business, has any plan ever been broached that created such a saving, and offered a method whereby so many people could own a piano into their home without any financial inconvenience whatever.

Think of being able to make a guaranteed saving of from $50 to $150 on a piano and to get that piano for as little as $5 cash and $1.25 per week. That is what co-operation means, and that is what co-operation does.

THE PLAN.

This co-operative plan is as simple as it is powerful. It means nothing more nor less than the increasing of the sales by co-operative buying, in that the piano may be sold whole sale instead of retail. Instead of handling our pianos in carload lots from the East, we ship thirty-five carloads at one time by what is known as the harness method—that is the pianos are put into the cars into a padded harness, thus saving the cost of the boxes, the freight on the boxes, and at the same time adding from four to seven pianos to each car; or in other words shipping about one-fourth of our pianos free and saving $10 on the cost and freight of each piano by eliminating the boxes.

These pianos are then sold, not in quantities of one and two but practically 500 at one time. That is what Club membership means. Instead of your buying your piano alone, you join a club of 499 other members and together you buy 500 pianos.

THE PIANO DEALER'S PROFIT.

When a piano dealer buys 100 pianos from our wholesale department, he aims to make from $50 to $100 on each piano when he sells them to you. When you join this club, you buy five times as many pianos as he does, and you get even a greater reduction than he gets.

THE CLUBS.

We have formed four Clubs, of 125 members each, which when taken will practically cover our 35 carload shipment of pianos, so that we are obliged to limit this membership to that number.

Club A pianos (and incidentally, Club A is nearly filled) represent the

TWO DISASTERS ON HIGH SEA

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—One shipwrecked crew and a sailor from another vessel which had been abandoned at sea were brought here today on the steamer Sarnia which arrived from Kingston, Six of the sailors were from the Italian bark Vetrina, which was wrecked on Point Morant, Jamaica, and became a total loss.

The other was a member of the crew of the American schooner Ida D. Southward, which was abandoned at sea in a damaged and waterlogged condition.

The crew of the Southward was rescued by the German steamer Siberia and landed at Fortunate Island.

FRIVOLOUS SPRING GOWNS FOR MATRONS.

Altogether the most stunning matron in the avenue is Mrs. Holland Forbes, who has bloomed like a peony in one of those new red checked velvets. Her most fashionable woman have borrowed from the land of champagne. Her handsome frock may be regarded as a forerunner of the checked silks with all kinds of polka dot effects that are to be worn in the spring. The matrons at last are blossoming gayly.

But Mrs. Grundy gradually permits matrons to wear almost anything. Not that the gown Mrs. Forbes wore was frivolous. Far from it. It was only the harbinger of a really snatched from the early turn of the century. The new silks burgeon! New York Dispatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

THE SERVICE OF PUBLICITY.

Recent events in other lands, as well as here, have put beyond reasonable dispute the value of the press as an agent of publicity. In New York we have seen newspaper discussion force the city government to execute a complete right about. And if we lift up our eyes to troubled Russia at this moment, how significant is the instinct of tyrannical repression in muzzling the press. Napoleon III did not make greater or more tell-tale haste in suppressing Chateaubriand after his coup d'etat. It is a French writer and publicist, M. Bonal, who has put the truth in concise form: "Grant that a state may be disturbed by what newspapers say, if it persists if they are allowed to say nothing, the press, like every other human institution, is open to criticism; if it is wise it will give heed to intelligent objections and complaints and will mend its manners and its morals alike; but if it refuses to receive the criticisms of the delinquent officials as a welcome sign that it is rightly playing the part which Romilly assigned to an untrammelled and plain-spoken newspaper in a free country.—From the New York Evening Post.

HOW LADY MANAGERS "FIRED" MISS EGAN.

"The chair stood up and called for the aye and no vote. 'What do you say?' she said in answer to a voice from the back of the hall. 'I don't know. Was it a two-thirds vote? Did anybody notice?'

"After many whisperings from the secretary and many promptings from the floor the vote was counted. 'The vote stands aye to five,' the chair announced. 'The motion is carried.'

"Madame Chairman," said the girl in the navy gown, "there are thirteen members present. The vote needs two-thirds of a woman to carry."

"How could it be carried?" said the chair. "The chair rules the motion is carried."

And the club proceeded to make history.—From Lavinia Egan's New Book.

GOOD MICROBES IN WINE.

Do you know what becomes of a great deal of the California claret that reaches New York? It is "physicked" by the addition of a microbe, which for want of a better name is termed "ferment." This does not only improve the quantity, but increases the quantity. A big corporation is in the business, this dosage, and what more does the American want? "How nice it is," "inordinance," worth, say, twenty cents a gallon, doctor it with this "good microbe," improve its quality 200 per cent and increase its quantity to 150 gallons.—New York Press.

WOMEN IN THE SWAYNE TRIAL.

Mrs. Gordon Russell, wife of Representative Russell of Tyler, Tex., and Mrs. Susan Lyle Downs of Waco, Tex., will appear as witnesses for the government in the Swayne impeachment proceedings in Washington. They will be the first women to appear in the floor of the Senate since the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson in 1868. While Judge Swayne was holding court at these places he boarded at the homes of Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Downs and is said to have paid them $1.25 a day for about forty days. In submitting his expense account he charged the government $10 a day.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The large ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria at the Bagby musical morning showed a novel decoration of fire and pines. The stage was backed with tall trees and the large posts supporting the galleries were hidden, while boughs of fir and pine covered the box fronts and trees were placed back of the top row of boxes. I ask no deposit—no reference—no security. There is nothing to risk—nothing to promise—nothing to pay—either now or later. Any Rheumatic sufferer who does not know my remedy may have a full dollar's worth of it.

I willingly make this liberal offer because I know that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, may be obtained ALWAYS to the utmost relief that medicine can give. Years before I discovered this remedy, I studied the nature of Rheumatism. For Rheumatism is really Crystallized Poison!

Your blood is always full of poison—the poison you eat and drink and breathe into your system. It is the purpose of the blood to absorb and carry off this very poison. And the kidneys, which are the blood filters, are expected to excrete the blood and send it back through the system clean, to gather more poison which they, in turn, will eliminate. But sometimes from some other cause, the blood gets so full of poison that they cannot absorb it all. This is the start of Rheumatism. The poison accumulates and crystallizes. The crystals look like little grains of sugar or of fine white sand. The blood carries them and they increase in size. Then when it can carry them no longer, it deposits them in a joint—on a bone—anywhere.

WHY W. C. JURGENS IS OPPOSED TO THE BAY CITIES PLAN.

Editor TRIBUNE: There is a question in my mind whether we need a municipal water plant or not, but if we do, why not purchase the existing plant of the Contra Costa Water Company? Why purchase something that exists only on paper?

The proposition of the Bay Cities Company seems to me to be foolish. They say the contract shall be "satisfactory to the city of Oakland." That means the City Council, I suppose. We do not know who will have seats in the Council when the deal is finally closed. They say the money will be refunded if the rights and titles of the company do not meet with the approval of "Oakland's City Attorney."

Who will Oakland's City Attorney be?

They agree to repay the city for any loss incurred and to furnish a bond for $1,000,000 for that purpose, yet they ask us to issue bonds for $6,000,000.

In short, the whole thing seems to me to be unbusinesslike. I shall oppose issuing bonds to purchase the "paper plant" of the Bay Cities Water Company. W. C. JURGENS, Secretary The Windale Co., 1006 Washington street.

CHARLES MAU SAYS WE CANNOT GET WATER IN TEN YEARS.

Editor TRIBUNE: While I believe in the municipal ownership of a municipal water supply, I think the proposition of the Bay Cities Company is indefinite. They say they will give us water in three years. It will more likely be ten. And all the time we would be fighting in the courts. I don't think the proposed bonds will carry.

JAMES CAHILL WOULD NOT INVEST MILLIONS IN RIVAL WATER COMPANY.

Editor TRIBUNE: I am in favor of municipal ownership of a water supply for Oakland. When there was recently submitted, by a special water committee, two schemes for which voters were asked to express their preferences, I approved that offered by the Bay Cities Water Company as the best of the two, but I shall not vote for the bond proposition now offered. I am against it because we do not want to put so many millions of dollars into a rival water company. Instead of adopting the Bay Cities bond scheme I am in favor of purchasing the Contra Costa Water Company's plant if it can be got for any reasonable sum of money. It is in actual existence and producing such an adequate revenue that Oakland can afford to purchase at a fair price to its owners.

To adopt the Bay Cities plan as presented for our suffrages would mean an enormous raise in our taxes. This would effectively bar the construction of all other improvements which are so greatly desired here. There are numerous other reasons which I think valid as to why the Bay Cities bond proposition should be defeated, but I believe the above are sufficient.

JAMES CAHILL, 408 Twelfth street.

WOULD BE YEARS OF LITIGATION

JOSEPH GHIRARDELLI IS OPPOSED TO BAY CITIES PLAN.

Editor TRIBUNE: I am emphatically against the Bay Cities water proposition. Should the bonds carry the water rates would be cut down and immediately there would be a war to the knife. There would be years of litigation for no purpose. Another of the many objections to the scheme would be the tearing up of the city streets to lay new mains. If we are to have a municipal plant I would favor purchasing the Contra Costa plant, no matter what it might cost.

JOSEPH GHIRARDELLI, 1423 Market street.

SAYS IT WILL BE VERY RISKY

FRED JOHNS WANTS BAY CITIES TO OFFER BETTER PROPOSITION.

Editor TRIBUNE: As the matter now stands I think it would be risky, to say the least, to accept the Bay Cities proposition. It is true that we will have a $1,000,000 bond, but we don't know who the stockholders are, and if we did we would not know who would own the stock at the time the deal was consummated. Then there is the litigation to be considered. Surely the bonds should be placed in escrow till all litigation is ended. Again, we have no assurance that the water they propose to deliver in three years would be of the right quality. That should be taken into consideration as well as everything else. Unless the Bay Cities Company can offer a better proposition I would oppose the proposed bonds.

FRED JOHNS, Attorney, Bacon Building.

G. W. M'KEAND MAKES NEW POINT

PROPOSED PLAN WOULD BENEFIT NON-PROPERTY OWNERS AND TAX LAND HOLDERS.

Editor TRIBUNE: The expediency of municipal bonded indebtedness having resolved itself into a dissertation as to the choice of any one of two evils it is in order now to speculate whether there exists necessity for the adoption of either alternative in view of the assured outcome that any such action and reduction of the rates for water supply would really be extension of alms to the poor to the water consumer at the expense of the property owner with little less reason than if the authorities were to supply a baking equipment in order to reduce the cost of the staff of life to the populace.

The lesser of the two evils would be the acquisition of the Contra Costa Company's system, as the burden to the property owner by such election would be less than would be suffered by the adoption of a competing system, as is proposed and of which there is no need whatever, as the volume of water supplied by the system now in operation is plentiful in quantity and excellent in quality, while it is wildly improbable that the operation of either system by municipal authority would yield return of the interest expended upon the bonded indebtedness, which would have to be gradually liquidated to the deprivation of needed civic necessities. In fine, the proposed plan of municipal ownership is a specious device to minister to the needs of non-property owners at the expense of those who, in most cases, have acquired it by effort and self deprivation.

G. W. M'KEAND.

LAWYER IS AGAINST BONDS

EUGENE TREFETHEN DOES NOT LIKE BAY CITIES PLAN.

Editor TRIBUNE: As a lawyer I do not think it is a wise policy for a city to bond itself for $5,700,000, and agree to pay interest on that sum to purchase a water plant that as yet is in the dim future. It is also unwise to invite certain litigation by purchasing a plant that as yet has been only conceived in the brains of a few men. The case of Clough against the Spring Valley Company is a case in point as to the interminable litigation that water rights involve. This suit has been on trial since December, 1893. It has been pushed with all due diligence. The case is not yet in the Supreme Court. It will be probably three years yet. After that it will have to be tried over again in all probability.

Even in event of a water plant being installed, the city would have to meet the Contra Costa Water Company in competition. The city would have to pay its interest in all events, while the water company could allow its interest to lapse. In view of these considerations and many others, which space will not allow to be mentioned,

I am against issuing bonds for the purchase of the Bay Cities plant.

(Signed) EUGENE TREFETHEN, Attorney-at-Law, corner of Eighth and Broadway.

NOT BUSINESS PROPOSITION

WM. H. MACKINNON WANTS TO KNOW WHAT HE IS BUYING.

Editor TRIBUNE: I believe that a business man should employ business methods in considering any question. No one will have the temerity to say that paying for a thing before you get it is sound business. Yet that is what the city of Oakland is asked to do in purchasing the Bay Cities water proposition. To spend $5,700,000 of the City's money in this manner without an adequate guarantee, would be the height of folly.

I am a taxpayer, and for that reason am opposed to buying anything which as yet has no existence. While I do not particularly favor the Contra Costa Water Company, I am not favorably impressed with the Bay Cities water scheme and will use my vote to help defeat burdening the city with additional taxes and long drawn-out litigation.

WILLIAM H. MACKINNON, Real Estate, 1150 Broadway.

BIND PROGRESS HAND AND FOOT

WILLIAM OREAR IN FAVOR OF BUYING THE CONTRA COSTA PLANT.

Editor TRIBUNE: In buying my goods as a storekeeper, I do not enter into a contract to buy something which may materialize, but I buy the goods already in existence. In the case of a choice between the Bay Cities Corporation and the Contra Costa Water Company I think the same line of reasoning will hold good. I am in favor of buying the plant already in existence, which is now pumping water into our homes.

To issue $5,000,000 worth of bonds for one single purpose, would bind progress hand and foot. We would have that amount of money tied up for three or four years and would not get any water during that time.

If the city of Oakland is going into the water business there is only one way to start and that is buy out the existing plant. Great railroad lines have been made by buying up the lines in existence and shutting out competition. If Oakland owns its own water works it will not succeed until there is no competition.

WILLIAM OREAR, Oakland Gun Store, 908 Broadway.

E. E. LAYMANCE GIVES SOLUTION

SAYS BONDS WOULD INCREASE TAX RATE AND BE STEP BACKWARD.

Editor TRIBUNE: The first effect on the city the purchase of the Bay Cities plant would have is to increase the tax rate, which from the standpoint of a real estate man would be a step backward. There would be little if any demand for Oakland realty. The rate of taxation is sufficiently high at the present time and if we burden property with additional taxes we may expect a dull market for many years. If we purchase the Bay Cities proposition it will take at least three years to get the water here. During that time we will be paying interest on the bonds and will also be paying the present water rates. This would make the people pay for a service which they do not get and also for the one which they do get. If the bonds carry it will stop other public improvements. Streets, parks, boulevards, a new City Hall and other improvements will be delayed many years. On the other hand, if we pay the Contra Costa Water Company even $7,000,000 for its plant, we will begin to take in revenue for the city at once. There would not then be double taxes for water. There will be no litigation and no competition. To buy the Contra Costa Water Company seems to be the only business-like solution of the question.

WANTS OTHER THINGS INCLUDED

M. BOCK THINKS CITY SHOULD OWN TELEPHONE AND GAS WORKS.

Editor TRIBUNE: I have only thought of this water bond proposition in a general way, but on general principles I favor it. I would not only have municipal ownership of water works, but also of telephone, gas and electric lighting. Perhaps this is too much to hope for in the near future. If we can get the Bay Cities water here for $5,700,000 would it not be wise to invest? We can get no property for nothing. I am informed by a member of the City Council that the reason the Contra Costa plant was not submitted to the voters along with the Bay Cities was because the Contra Costa owners declined or neglected to place a valuation at which they would sell, saying merely, "we will accept whatever a court fixes the value at." I do not think that was business-like, hence I am now for the Bay Cities proposition.

JAMES W. PIERCE JR. WANTS NEW PLANT

DOES NOT BELIEVE TAXES WILL BE INCREASED BY NEW DEAL.

The publication of the following communication was requested of THE TRIBUNE by an agent of the Bay Cities Water Company:

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—I beg a little of your spare space to say briefly that I want to see the Bay Cities proposition carried through. I have been goaded to a state of indignation by the number of letters that have appeared in the newspapers signed by persons residing in this community, who talk about voting down the Bay Cities proposition and buying the Contra Costa Water plant, and giving them anything they ask for it.

It does look to me as though such people would give away the whole town to the Contra Costa if it was up to their votes to do so. One would think from what they say that the Contra Costa was the most loved institution that ever existed itself in a community; that the people would give it anything it wanted.

Either that, or it was such an affair that the site of Oakland would not be too much to give it to get rid of it. I am in favor of doing neither. We have been warring with it for years and years. It beats us every time in the courts, and in the past it has beaten us at the polls. Only recently does it seem that the people have gathered the courage, the strength, and unanimity to successfully oppose this corporation. The Contra Costa evidently does not believe that the people have now the strength to oppose it. It has so often beaten the people at the polls, that having to get but one-third of the votes to defeat this bond proposition, it is apparently looking upon the result with the greatest confidence. The people, however, are not doing much talking; the vote is to be secret, and it is enough that when the time comes they will go to the polls and avail themselves of that secret ballot.

I think one of the silliest things that has been advanced on behalf of the Contra Costa in this contest is the scare which it has tried to get up over the raise in taxation. Any one who has read the statements that have appeared in the papers on this subject can figure it out, and see that there would be no raise in taxes whatever, that if the water rates remain as now under the municipal plant, the taxes would be very considerably lowered. We are paying now about $72,000 a year for city water, and an average of about $12,000 a year for litigation expenses and lawyers' fees in fighting the Contra Costa, and we have paid that average for years. Besides, the Contra Costa on its side has charged up against us in the last five years upwards of $150,000 for the same purpose, which sum has been figured in the expense of the company and used as a basis for the fixing of water rates.

The people pay not only their own expense of litigation in the business, but also the expense of the Contra Costa, which together in less than five years have amounted to over $200,000—an utter and outrageous waste of the people's money, made necessary, however, by the intolerable charges of the Contra Costa Water Company. This money we shall save with a municipal water system.

One per cent of the city taxation is equal to something over $5,000. As we would save on these two items alone over $100,000 a year, there would be a fall of somewhere about 20 cents on the tax rate if we could get rid of the Contra Costa and furnish water through the municipal plant at the same rates that it is charging us.

In every aspect of this matter the reason strongly urge the voting through of the water bonds. Every man who has the interest of his city at heart will vote with us. Those who will not vote with us are those who have more interest in the properties of the Contra Costa than they have in the city, or they have not the intelligence to understand the question and can be swayed to vote against the bonds by the solicitations of one of the paid political roustabouts of the Contra Costa Water Company.

CHANCE VACATION

The Board of Education will at its next meeting, order a certain change in the mid-term vacation. The school calendar provides for a week's vacation for teachers and pupils, and the custom has been in the past to hold the County Institute either the week before, or week after the vacation. This year, owing to the necessity of moving several large school buildings during vacation, the board will at its next meeting, pass a resolution giving only the week of vacation of the school buildings during vacation, the board will at its next meeting, pass a resolution giving only the week of vacation of the school buildings during vacation.

Schools will close for the term on Friday, June 2. Institute will occur the last week of March, or the first of April.

ments and discourage building."

3. "The installation of a competing plant, with a company already in the field, would add to our municipal embarrassments and keep the Contra Costa Company in our domestic politics."

4. "The purity of the water it is proposed to bring in is seriously open to question."

Further along he states that the Bay Cities scheme means a protracted litigation, etc., and it is inferred that this is another reason why he opposes the bonds.

Mr. Belden's first and second objections are premised upon the theory that the city plant would be constructed, paid for by the city, and then held idle by it until such time as the Contra Costa Company should see fit to retire gloriously from the field and turn the good will of its business over to the city.

His third objection is equally asinine and is fully met by the report of Messrs. Turner, Hunt and Howells, which is before me, and which I quote from as follows:

"The geology has still another advantage in that it sheds water against erosion and reduces to a minimum wash into the reservoirs; thus the smooth, unguilted slopes prove, not only indefinite preservation of the storage capacity of the reservoirs, but are favorable, as compared with most streams, in that the water will carry but little sediment even during storm times. This consideration, in connection with the fact that the watershed is so sparsely populated, places the water supply beyond criticism; and its crystal clearness at the time of our visit bears practical evidence of its favorable surroundings."

Mr. Belden completely and deftly ignores the fact that the excessive water rates of the Contra Costa Company have been and still are the strongest factors working against Oakland's growth as an industrial city, and that the beauty of the city is dwarfed by reason of the fact that proper care of lawns and shrubbery is prohibitive because of the high cost of water. And while he states that the installation of a competing system would add to municipal embarrassments and "keep" the Contra Costa Company in domestic politics, he does not say that failure to install such a system would rid us of the incubus. Perhaps the conscience (?) of the Contra Costa editor would not permit him to make any such rash promise.

Mr. Belden believes that it would be "good business policy" to buy the Contra Costa plant at $5,000,000, and adds "It may not be worth it; I don't know." As a "business" man does Mr. Belden believe it to be a "good business policy" to pay Contra Costa eight million dollars for a supply of possibly, not probably, ten or twelve million gallons of water a day and its rickety distributing system that would have to be replaced at a cost of two million dollars, as against paying five and three-quarter million dollars for a supply of twenty million gallons and a brand new, up-to-date and complete distributing system?

Mr. Belden, obeying the impulse that seems to possess all Contra Costa TRIBUNE's correspondents, hints at the awfulness of threatened litigation. The open letter of Mr. W. S. Tevis, president of the Bay Cities Water Company, addressed to the People of Oakland, January 25 last, appears before me in the "Tribune" of the 26th. The following is quoted therefrom:

"To repay to the City of Oakland any moneys paid to the Company, the repayment of which is necessary to the protection of the city against loss accruing through the failure of any water right or title to any property essential to the proposed water works system."

"To defend the title to the right and properties conveyed to the city for an agreed period—sufficiently long to render them free from all danger of successful legal attack."

In view of which, why is this Contra Costa Company's organ so greatly exercised over the proposed bond issue if it knows the Bay Cities Company cannot deliver the goods? and if no adequate water supply can be brought to the city by the new company, it would seem that such investments upon the part of the Contra Costa Company in contributors like Chickering, Irish et al., were a wicked waste of funds which the rate payers of Oakland would be called upon to reimburse the Contra Costa when rates are established once more. Yours truly,

J. C. BRONSON, 1150 East Fifteenth street, Oakland, February 11, 1905.

GIVES HIS REASONS FOR BEING IN FAVOR OF BAY CITIES PLAN.

The publication of the following communication was requested of THE TRIBUNE by an agent of the Bay Cities Water Company:

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—It is difficult to imagine the methods of H. B. Belden in reaching his conclusions regarding the pending water bond issue, as set forth in the Contra Costa's TRIBUNE of February 2.

FATALLY STABBED BY SWEETHEART.

He Chides Her For Being Intoxicated; She Answers With Sharp Knife.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—Pending the result of injuries which the police believe will prove fatal, Mary E. Geary is detained at the City Prison. The charge against her will probably be murder, for Henry Rassin, a stevedore, 36 years old, with whom she has been living, is dying at the Central Emergency Hospital.

Mary Geary and Rassin lived together at 307 Fourth street. Last night she was out drinking with a number of men and women and when she returned in a maudlin condition, Rassin remonstrated with her.

In her drunken frenzy she seized a French cook knife and stabbed him in the abdomen. Fatally wounded he fell, calling for help, and the officers arrived in time to catch the woman. He was taken to the hospital; she to the jail.

It was not believed at first that Rassin's injuries were serious, but later it developed that they were dangerous and the attending surgeons performed an operation. After the operation was performed word was sent to the Hall of Justice and Assistant Bond and Warrant Clerk Ward went out to take the dying man's statement.

He told the story as related above and immediately elapsed into unconsciousness. He is still unconscious.

PUGILIST
RELIGION

Harry Maynard Knocked Out in Fight With Satan.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—Harry Maynard, the once famous San Francisco pugilist, has found religion in his old age. The dust is gathering on the shutters of his old saloon in Red Bluff and it would take a burglar to break through the barred doors.

The Maynard-Satan bout took place in Red Bluff last week. The pair had met before many times, and Satan always won so easily that it looked like a lay-down, but Harry finally pulled himself together and went after his old enemy from the tap of the song. According to all accounts, it was as pretty a mill as one could wish to see. The fight lasted for days, and all the while Harry was ducking and countering and sidestepping, occasionally going down for the count, but always coming back, until Satan got so weary of his job that he jumped out of the ring. The referee very properly gave the decision to Harry.

An enthusiastic account of the conversion appeared in the Sentinel News of Red Bluff. Here is what it said:

"The meetings at the Baptist Church have been very successful in the past week. Large numbers have been restored and the converts are mostly adults. Among the number is Harry Maynard, the one-time champion pugilist. He won fifty battles in the ring and he owned the Sporting Palace in San Francisco for a number of years. He has closed his saloon here and will from now on try to live a Christian life. The age of miracles is certainly not past, as nothing but the power of God could reach one after so many years of evil habits."

What Harry did with his medals is not known. He had more junk than Philo Jacoby, and it was once his greatest joy to decorate himself until he looked like the Crown Prince of Wurzburg and go down to the photographer's.

An interesting feature of the old fighter's change of pace is that the preacher, Rev. E. R. Hermiston, who induced him to shed the apron and desert the glassware and the troubled waters, was formerly a baseball pitcher.

TROUBLE WITH BATTLESHIP OHIO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The report of the Board of Inspection on the battleship Ohio on her recent trial received at the Navy Department shows that the trouble with the turret consisted only in that four or five of the rollers showed defects which are to be corrected. Some minor changes also are to be made, but it is expected that none of the defects is of a serious nature, and that thirty days will suffice to do all the work recommended by the board as necessary to be done, when the Ohio will sail for Asiatic waters.

WHY HIS POWER WAS REPUDIATED

The reason for the repudiation of the power of attorney by John Gooly last Saturday, filed for record by Attorney D. Mitchell, was made apparent today when a complaint was filed by Martha M. Taylor of Lafayette, Contra Costa county, to recover from Gooly a piece of property in Berkeley which Mitchell had purchased for him under the power of attorney he has disclaimed.

According to the complaint, the plaintiff states she desired the land to Gooly through Mitchell for a period of three years, during which time he should have the privilege of buying it for $1500. She received no money for it, but a year or son-in-law, Harry L. Boyle, for $1500. She now alleges that neither of them have any title to the land and wants the mortgage and deed set aside.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

EUREKA, Cal., Feb. 15.—Humboldt county started the good roads movement in earnest today when J. G. Lovgren of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the Board of Supervisors and asked of the county. The request was granted and a monster meeting in which three towns will be represented will be held tomorrow. The plan is to bond every supervisorial district in the county for a sum aggregating $25,000.

UNIVERSITY FARM
BILL PASSES

APPROPRIATES $15,000 FOR PURPOSE—NO OPPOSITION.

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—Senator Diggs' bill appropriating $15,000 for the purchase of a University farm to be operated in connection with the Agricultural Department of the University of California, passed the Senate this morning.

The bill originally called for $250,000, but at the suggestion of the Finance Committee was cut to $15,000. Senators Rowell, Carter and Diggs spoke in favor of the bill. There was no opposition.

WAR MATERIAL
FOR JAPSBOMBARDING IN TRENCHES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 15.—Lieutenant-General Sakharoff, General Kuropatkin's chief of staff, telegraphs that the Russian artillery on February 12 destroyed the buildings and walls of Nangai, from which the Japanese had been bombarding the Russian trenches. The Japanese were driven out.

RACETRACK MAN
COMMITTS SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, February 15.—Morris Rothchild, a well-known race track man of Chicago, committed suicide at the Hotel Lexington here this morning by shooting himself in the temple with a revolver. Rothchild, who was 42 years old, suffered from lung trouble and a complication of diseases. He left a note saying that he killed himself because of ill health and directing that his personal effects be sent to his family at Chicago.

RUSSIAN
KILLED

Projectile Wounds Men Playing Game of Cards.

RUSSIAN HEADQUARTERS, Huan Mountain, Manchuria, February 15.—During the Japanese bombardment of Poutiloff Hill a projectile from a siege gun entered an underground hut, burst inside and tore off the head of a lieutenant and wounded a colonel and two staff captains who were playing cards.

In front of Koudezi, on the right flank, the Russians are trying the effect of concentrated siege and mortar batteries with good results, firing as many as twenty mortars simultaneously.

The Japanese are reported to have suffered more from the cold than the Russians during the fighting westward. The hospitals at Liao Yang are reported to be crowded with frost-bitten men.

According to the Chinese, the Japanese reserve brigades are being moved eastward, indicating the direction of the Japanese offensive when it begins. Reports from the same source say that General Nogi will command the extreme right.

Rumors continue that the Japanese are quietly shifting heavy forces from their center to their flanks, the constant artillery work in the central position seeming to cover such movements.

Mukden and its neighborhood are full of Chinese spies in the pay of the Japanese.

While the nights are still cold the days are warmer and the time is approaching for ideal campaigning. Spring in Manchuria is not marked by a rainfall. The great battle which all are expecting may spell ruin to either army, should it occur within a month.

Whatever grounds may exist for the charges that the Russians are violating Chinese neutrality, it is certain that bodies of Japanese troops and Chinese bandits, acting under Field Marshal Oyama's orders, are operating in Mongolia, usually heavy detachments of several hundred men. It was one of such bodies which recently destroyed a railroad bridge between Mukden and Harbin.

WAR MATERIAL FOR JAPS

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—The Pacific Mail steamship Korea sailed today for the Orient via Honolulu with a cargo of 11,000 tons of merchandise, which includes a large amount of war material for the Japanese government, comprising rifles, cartridges, machinery, nitrate, cotton, leather and quicksilver.

Among the Korea's passengers are Major-General Arthur McArthur and wife, and his aide de camp, Col. Parker West. They are going to Japan, whence General MacArthur will proceed to Manchuria to observe the war as the representative of the United States army.

John Goodnow, former consul-general at Shanghai, is returning to China to engage in private business.

CAPITALIST ARRESTED.
H. W. Leathers, a capitalist, was arrested today at the corner of Ninth and Broadway for violating the hitchhiking ordinance. He deposited $2 fall for his appearance in the police court tomorrow morning.

VOTE FOR SENATOR CHANGES

Niedringhaus Forces Bolt --Choice is Not Made.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., February 15.—Today's joint session of the Missouri Legislature was the most interesting since the establishment of the deadlock over the selection of a United States Senator to succeed Senator Cockrell.

The expected bolt from the Niedringhaus forces came on the twenty-third ballot, the first taken today, but was not of sufficient strength to change the relative standing of the candidates. Maples of Christian and Viles of Stone broke from the caucus nominee and cast their ballots for Lieutenant-Governor John C. McKinley.

The Lieutenant-Governor declared he was not a candidate for the Senatorship and requested the bolters to return to the caucus nominee in the interests of party regularity and fidelity. Both Maples and Viles defended their votes, declaring that they believed they were carrying out the wishes of their constituents.

Brown of Grundy, who has been voting for Pettijohn for several days, changed to McKinley. The "Walmsley complimentary vote" went to Senator Young.

The result of the ballot was: Niedringhaus, 65; Cockrell, 73; McKinley, 3; Kerens, 12; Finkelburg, 1; Pettijohn, 1; Young, 1.

A motion to adjourn until tomorrow was opposed by the Kerens' forces, who, voting with the Democrats, succeeded in ordering another ballot.

The vote resulted the same as the previous ballot with the exception of Whitaker, who changed from Finkelburg to McKinley, and the Walmsley vote, which went to State Senator Baumann of St. Louis.

HER ARMS AROUND HIS NECK

Woman Called This Aged Captain Soft, Sweet Names.

"I have seen Mrs. Emerson put her arm around my father's neck and call him dear, and pet him," said Albert Fletcher this afternoon in response to questions put to him by Attorney M. C. Chapman who is representing him in a suit to break the will of his father, the late Captain Henry Fletcher.

It is claimed by the son and widow that the father and husband had suffered from senility about eight months prior to his death and that his mind had become affected and under such treatment as accorded him by Mrs. Emerson he dismembered his own son and gave her a large bequest and left her son Frank $1000.

Fletcher's examination was finished this afternoon and Mrs. Ida Ingraham was called. She stated that she and her husband had been tenants of Captain Fletcher's and conducted a coal yard for eight years in East Oakland near his home. He often stopped and talked to her and she said the difference in his manner and talk after his illness was very marked, and that in her opinion he was not in his right mind judging from things he did and said to her.

SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Major Brodie is now Governor of Arizona and is expected to relinquish that office and come to Washington and assume his new duties in a few days.

Needs and Friends of Oakland Harbor

The inspection of Oakland harbor by Hon. Frank P. Flint, United States Senator-elect from California; Hon. George S. Nixon, Senator-elect from Nevada, and Hon. Duncan E. McKinlay, Congressman-elect from the Second district, ought to bear good fruit. It will acquaint all these gentlemen with the conditions and needs of the harbor prior to their entrance upon their official duties. They will be prepared by information obtained at first hands and by personal observation to deal with the improvement question in an intelligent manner.

We are confident the harbor will be fairly treated by them, and that the interests of Oakland will receive proper attention in the future.

Senator Flint has expressed himself in terms which carry the conviction that he is in hearty sympathy with all projects for public improvement in California. He is apparently particularly friendly to Oakland. Moreover, he is taking pains to acquaint himself with the wants of every locality in the State prior to going to Washington to take his seat. With a view to accurately informing himself he has traveled all over California, seeing for himself and conversing with leading citizens and prominent officials. He will therefore go into the Senate in close touch with the legislative needs of every division of his constituency. His eagerness to learn is indicative of a willingness to serve that is not warped by sectional partiality.

Senator Nixon is from another State, but he is a Californian in sympathy, and his State is closely identified by ties of interest and association with California. Nevada's natural outlet to the sea is here on the bay of San Francisco. It is natural therefore that Mr. Nixon should take a special interest in the question of harbor improvements on this bay. Consequently we have every reason to believe that he will be an active and earnest ally of Senator Perkins and Senator Flint in urging appropriations for completing the contemplated improvements for this harbor.

We have every assurance that Mr. McKinlay will be an energetic coadjutor in this work. In the House he will stand shoulder to shoulder with Mr. Knowland on all measures in behalf of Oakland harbor and the Mare Island Navy Yard.

The improvement of the harbor in accordance with the plans of Colonel Heuer will cost about three-quarters of a million. The river and harbor bill now before Congress carries a present appropriation of $100,000 and provides for $150,000 more. Consequently Congress will have to provide for half a million hereafter. This sum should be forthcoming within the next two or three years that the work may proceed diligently and without periodical stoppages. But above all things the harbor should have at once a twenty-five foot channel to the foot of Oak street. Such a channel is the key to the whole scheme of harbor improvement and should be anterior to all other improvements.

The Opportunity and the Man.

The complaint is frequently heard that the Mayor is not to be found in the executive office at the City Hall during ordinary business hours. This fact is not alluded to by way of criticism, but to refer to the consoling reflection that there will be no ground for such complaints when Frank K. Mott is elected Mayor. There will be no trouble about getting speech with the Mayor during the next two years.

Mr. Mott is a methodical man of business who takes a lively personal interest in the affairs of the city. He possesses a conscientious sense of duty and is the sort of a man to neglect his private business rather than neglect the duties of his office. He will serve the public devotedly and intelligently.

It is a matter for congratulation that Mr. Mott has no activities outside the City of Oakland. All his business interests and family ties are centered here and citizens having business with the head of the municipality can be assured that Mr. Mott will always be on hand when wanted. When not at the City Hall he will always be accessible at his place of business on Broadway.

Moreover, Mr. Mott has the saving grace of good humor and a sound digestion. His unflinching good temper and willingness to be of service are no mean qualifications in an office so full of small perplexities as is the office of Mayor of Oakland. A kindly heart, a genial manner and a forbearing disposition arm him against fretful worry and insure the pleasantest of intercourse between the Mayor that is to be and the citizens who have delegated him the task of directing municipal affairs.

But with all his kindly patience Mr. Mott is not lacking in firmness and decision. He has a stiff backbone and a sturdy sense of conviction. If he is diplomatic it does not proceed from pliability or vacillation. It is his nature to be kindly, his habit to be courteous, but beneath the pleasant manner is a robust individuality charged with earnestness and moral purpose.

Mr. Mott has an ardent feeling of loyalty for Oakland. It will be his pleasure as well as his duty to promote the welfare of the city and to improve and adorn it. To do this he will make both personal and business sacrifices, and will put personal and factional differences behind him. His two terms as Councilman have given him an insight into municipal affairs that materially adds to his fitness and will increase his usefulness.

And it must be said that if Mr. Mott promises to make an excellent Mayor, he is not lacking in opportunity and support. He has a fine field before him, and behind him is a cordial and united support of the better elements of the city. Mr. Mott and the city are both to be congratulated on this aspect of the situation.

The trading stamp bill which has passed the Senate is aimed to abate a commercial nuisance, but unfortunately it has been made a sort of dragnet affair. Its provisions are so sweeping that it is likely to prove a greater nuisance than the one it seeks to abate. Some of these provisions appear to be unconstitutional. The bill should be amended and confined to the purpose which the merchants had in view when they recommended its passage.

The Republicans have elected a Legislature in Missouri, but they seem unable to elect a Senator. Worse than that, the breweries and Catholic Church have been dragged into the fight. That is, one of the candidates is backed by a big brewery syndicate while another rests under the henuous charge of being a Catholic. A race question is also involved, the beer candidate being a Teuton, while the Catholic is Irish. All the materials seem present for a lively scrap.

Coils Tightening Around Mitchell.

A Federal grand jury in Oregon continues to find indictments against Senator Mitchell, but the latter continues to calmly occupy his seat in the Senate and to participate in all legislation coming before that body. The case against him is given a blacker complexion by the plea of guilty entered by Mitchell's law partner, former Judge Tanner, who confessed that he committed perjury in swearing to fake articles of agreement which Mitchell cooked up to clear his skirts of complicity in the land frauds. Tanner not only committed perjury himself, but induced his son, at the suggestion of Mitchell, to commit unintentional perjury. It was to save the son whom he had placed in jeopardy that Tanner confessed his guilt. In doing so, he placed in the hands of the court a letter showing that his crime was committed at the direct instigation of the Senator.

Mitchell has tearfully proclaimed his innocence of complicity in the land frauds, but his letter to Tanner does not support the claim of innocence. His artfully suggested scheme of perjury closed with the significant injunction, "burn this letter." The tenor of the letter explains the anxiety for its immediate destruction after it had served its purpose. An innocent man is not likely to suborn perjury in an effort to vindicate himself from false charges. Mitchell's letter to Tanner, as well as the latter's confession, fasten upon the Senator the crime of counseling another to swear falsely. Nevertheless, the Senate neither objects to Mitchell's participation in its deliberations nor takes steps to investigate the charges. The Senate of the United States is evidently not copying after the Senate of California.

Texas legislators are now after the institution of progressive polygamy with a sharp stick. A proposed law forbids remarriage to divorced parties within three years after the decree is granted. This is apt to interfere with the practice which is becoming so common of married people seeking fresh affluities while still in the bonds of matrimony. A probation of three years is likely to discourage the taste for variety.

PALMY DAYS OF THE CIRCUS.

The circus in this country, though it may have undergone developments and improvements in the form of elegant arrangements and appointments has never managed to excel in feats of cleverness and intrepidity those provided for the delectation of people now elderly and their progenitors. A favorite scene in a circus—there is one at present in London—is a representation of a hunt. Shortly before William Cooke entered upon his tenancy of Astley's in 1855 the indefatigable Batty had put on a fox-hunting scene, with a "real fox."

For do we nowadays see anything quite so sensational as the open air circus trick of balancing a donkey tied to the top of a ladder—a most uncomfortable and risky proceeding, both for the poor beast and the equilibrist. The late Queen Victoria when a child visited Tumbridge Wells in the company of her mother, the Duchess of Kent, and the latter amiable lady, seeing this feat about to be commenced, insisted upon its being stopped. Old men will remember that the performer waited a long while for a sample collection of "coppers" before

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE.

It Hid a Luxuriant Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.

The Father of his Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion was in vogue to conceal thinned hair or baldness. Yet no one need have this hair nor be laid off by the cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff can not be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There is no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ. Sold by leading druggists. he hoisted his unfortunate victim, and it was his constant cry, "Twopence more and up goes the donkey!" which gave rise to the catch-phrase now often heard. Mr. William Holland at the Covent Garden Circus some years ago showed us a "Blondin horse," but

HIS WIFE WOKE HIM UP.

Connecticut Man Nearly Choked to Death in Night.

No comment is needed on the following letter. It tells of fearful experiences that have fortunately been overcome.

Dear Sirs:—Often in the night my wife had to wake up because I was almost choking to death with catarrh. I had one of the worst cases that was ever known. Skilled physicians said it was chronic.

Fortunately a friend told me of Hyomei, and I used this treatment faithfully, and today am free from catarrh. I used Hyomei perhaps five times a day and could soon see a great change. A complete outfit and an extra bottle cured me. I always carry a Hyomei inhaler in my pocket, so as to prevent any colds or slight catarrhal attacks that are common at this season of the year. Yours Fraternally,

THOMAS FINCHAM.

Putnam, Connecticut.

It is the easiest thing in the world to cure catarrh or catarrhal colds if you use Hyomei. Breathe its health-giving, balsamic air for a few minutes, and your catarrhal trouble will soon be cured. The complete outfit costs but one dollar, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life-time, while extra bottles, if needed, can be obtained for 50 cents. In Oakland there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not help you, Osgood Brothers will return your money in accordance with the guarantee they give with every outfit.

SAMURAI SWORD PLAY FOR SOCIETY GIRLS.

While Jiu Jitsu is exciting interest among society youths, their sisters and sweethearts are taking up with much more enthusiasm another Japanese accomplishment, that of swordplay, which does a great deal more for the muscles than does the complicated wrestling and knockabout work of the former science. Fencing with the sword, the samurai used to wear is altogether different from work with the foils. One wonders how the old warriors of Arnold's dreamland ever conducted duels with dignity, so unwieldy are the weapons. Both hands are used, however, and a good many swiftness, movements are essential to success. That which looks awkward makes the average girl graceful and strengthens her who already is lissom enough to suit the most fastidious critic. Miss Cornelia Bryce practices Japanese fencing neither for strength nor beauty, being excellently well equipped in those respects, but for sheer love of the sport.—From the New York Press.

MRS. ROOSEVELT SENT FLOWERS

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the President of the United States, has sent to the sisters in charge of the St. John's Hospital, Long Island City, a beautiful basket of artificial flowers. The gift was accompanied by a letter from Mrs. Roosevelt, in which she expressed sincere regret that she was not at home when, a few days ago, two of the sisters of St. John's called at the White House to see her.

The basket is of gilded wicker work and stands four feet high. The flowers, of which there are many varieties, in all their individual colorings, are made from feathers. Among the flowers are many small, bright colored birds and insects, and the effect is striking. Mrs. Roosevelt's suggestion as to the basket having a place on the chapel altar will be followed.—From the New York Herald.

THE HIRED GIRL PROBLEM.

Hello! We want a servant girl. You've got no servants—what? What's that? Oh, yes, I understand. Beg pardon, I forgot. An employee will suit as well. Yes, black or white will do. We're looking for a hired girl. No matter what her hue.

What's that? A green one? Well, how much? Does she expect to get? What? Four per week, with room and board?

Well, please, don't send her yet. The last one that we had was green. We only paid her two. And what she did was small compared with what she couldn't do.

Our house is not a training school. With pay to any girl. That comes along—speak louder. What?

You say you've got a pearl. Who only wants three afternoons. Two nights and he's gone. And who won't work upstairs if she has.

To do the work below. Well, what's the price of pearls today? What? Six per peck? How nice! I didn't think that one could get a pearl at such a price.

However, if she—what? Oh, yes. We always go away. In summer time and let the help keep right on drawing pay.

What's that? She doesn't like the street. We live in? Well, we'll move. We never wish to do a thing. Our help does not approve.

Pray ask her in what neighborhood she'd rather live—what's that? No matter what the neighborhood. She won't live in a flat.

You've got another? What's she like? What's that? She's not a pearl? Well, send her up if she is like. An old-time hired girl.

Sie? Why? They're out of style? Just wait a minute—I will, send her up. Perhaps we'll suit. At least, I know we'll try.

—Wm. J. Lampton, in Leslie's Monthly.

HER LADYSHIP IS HARD TO KILL.

"To judge from my own humble experiences," remarked the man who is particular what he says, "woman is so tough you can't kill her. Last night in a trolley car a radiant creature gave us all a treat by leaving her evening coat open. She was clothed above the belt in some transparent stuff that left little to the imagination. One woman remarked that it must be her first catarrh dress, else she would hardly risk her life to show it. Then in the afternoon I saw a couple more of the weaker sex tripping along in the freezing slush. They held their skirts just high enough to show high heels, paper soled Oxfords and lace work stockings, which were actually too easy to interest. Boredom who devoted his energies to squeezing into woman's seakings and men's fur lined overcoats. Now, I'm what these women call a great, big, strong man, yet I'd wager people would be wiping their eyes as they lingered over my virtues and told each other there'd never be another like me in just three days were I to bare my manly bosom as well as my ankles in freezing trolley cars and icy, slushy streets."—From the Philadelphia Record.

ACROSS THE STYX.

"Who's that big, pompous fellow with chin whiskers and the protuberant bristlet?"
"That's a Napoleon of Finance."
"And that theatrical-looking chap?"
"A prominent Napoleon of Managers."
"And that noisy, low-browed individual?"
"A Napoleon of Pugilists."
"And who's the little, quiet fellow in gray?"
"Oh, him? That's Napoleon."

Assessor Dalton Urges Bill to Correct Assessments—New Hotel For Yosemite Valley.

[Special to THE TRIBUNE.]
SACRAMENTO, February 15.—Oakland was specially honored in connection with the Lewis & Clark Fair at Portland when the plans for the California State Building at that show offered by the Oakland firm of architects, Dickey & Reed, were accepted.

This has since been followed by the opening of bids for the erection of the building in the office of the Governor and the awarding of the contract also to an Oaklander, A. W. Burrell, head of the Burrell Construction Company.

The Burrell bid was the lower of the two bids received, the other for $34,436 having come from F. H. Barnes.

There have been pictures published of the California Building at Portland, but they have been of the imaginative order. In fact, the perfected design has not, as yet, been completed in detail and will not be ready for the artist's brush for some days.

MANY MISSIONS.

An idea obtained that the structure was to be a reproduction of that at the St. Louis Fair, in which the main facade was a reproduction of the Mission at Santa Barbara.

The building will be in the form of a Greek Cross. The north end will have a front fashioned after that of the Mission of San Antonio de Padua; the west wing, a design suggested by the Mission of El Carmelo; the east wing, one suggesting the Mission of San Luis Rey and the wing a reproduction of Mission Dolores of San Francisco.

HOTEL FOR YOSEMITE.

The Curtin bill, one of the earliest introduced in the session, appropriating $200,000 for the erection of a new hotel in Yosemite, went through the Senate without a dissenting vote. The author of the bill declared that there would be no harm done by voting for the measure, because the question of receding the Valley to the United States Government would be decided before final action would be taken on the hotel measure in the other House. If recession should pass the Senate the hotel would not be needed, but if the State were to retain hold of the Valley, a hotel would be a great desideratum.

DRUG CLERKS' BILL.

Governor Pardee will now have to dispose of the bill fixing the hours of labor of clerks in drug stores. The measure intended originally to have ten hours constitute a day's labor for a pharmacist but, in passing through the Senate, it was amended, so as not to make it oppressive upon employing pharmacists. One of the amendments provides that the time be fixed at the rate of ten hours a day, and that emergency calls are not to be considered as in violation of the law. As good feeling seemed to attend the bill along its passage, there is hardly any doubt that the measure will meet the approval of the Governor.

KIRK APPORTIONMENT.

The battle over the new apportionment of school funds under the bill prepared by Superintendent of Instruction Kirk will be fought out in the Assembly Thursday next. There is a strong probability that the measure will pass. The great majority of the counties of the State under it will receive more money than they have heretofore received for school purposes and this fact makes a strong bid for popularity. There are enough votes in the Legislature from the eight counties, whose apportionment will be decreased by the measure, to defeat the bill if they should decide to stand together, but there seems to be no possibility of cohesion among them. Some of them are radically opposed to the bill and others who ought to be will vote for its passage because of policy sake.

Assemblyman Strobbridge has been informed that his own school district will lose $1411.74 each year by the change.

LUKENS WORKS IN VAIN.

Senator Lukens worked in a fruitless manner to prevent the increasing of the expense of the proposed District Court of Appeals by opposing the creation in the office of each clerk of an additional deputy. Under the bill, which passed the Senate several weeks ago and which is now before the Assembly, each arm of the court was allowed a clerk at $200 a month, a deputy clerk, who should also act as stenographer, at $120 and a bailiff at $100. Since the passage of this Senate bill, the Assembly measure on the same subject has come to the Senate and Senator Belshaw offered to it his amendment providing that the staff include another deputy clerk at $1800 per year.

Senator Lukens said it had been shown that the Senate wanted only a clerk and a deputy who would, at the same time, be a stenographer. He thought that there was a principle involved which ought not to be forgotten and that was that when Chief Justice Beatty gave his opinion that the court could be run at an expense of not more than $60,000 a year, and when what he had to say had a good deal to do toward making people favor the proposition, gratitude should be shown him by not placing the expense of the court beyond reasonable limits.

NEED NOT BE GRADUATES.

Assemblyman Strobbridge has worked hard for the bill committed to him by the Alameda County Board of Education, which authorizes such Boards to grant High School certificates to teach without insisting that the applicant shall be a graduate of the University of California. The bill passed the Assembly, there being fifty-five votes in the affirmative and none in the negative.

WALSH AND RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

The Walsh measure, which provides the manner in which railroads shall cross one another has received liberal endorsement, nearly all the members present voting in favor of the measure. The bill is intended to do away, as much as possible, with crossings at grade as a means of conserving both life and property. It also provides for crossings over and above tracks already established and provides how the work is to be done and how the expense is to be apportioned.

LIBERAL TO UNIVERSITY.

Friends of the University of California can find no fault with the Finance Committee of the Senate because of the treatment accorded the big school by that body yesterday, as every request made was granted, namely: $250,000 for an agricultural building at Berkeley, $125,000 of which is payable the first day of July, 1905; $12,000 for the use of the Regents of the University, $5,000 of which becomes payable July 1, 1905, and the rest, one year later; $10,000 for research in viticulture; $10,000 for the installation of an electric light and power plant at Mount Hamilton Observatory, and $5,075 to repay the Regents of the University of California for moneys advanced by them to repairing building for a Forestry Station at Santa Monica.

BURKE BILL A CONVENIENCE.

Assessor Dalton appeared before the Assembly Committee on Judiciary in support of a bill which Assemblyman Burke had introduced enabling the correction of errors made in assessment rolls. The bill provides that the

"I was troubled with eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was in such a condition that I could not go out. It was going from bad to worse and I gave up all hope, when a friend of mine highly recommended Cuticura remedies. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent it changed wonderfully, and continuing the treatment I removed all scales and scabs. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month my face was as clean as ever."

That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures of the civilized world. DEMANDS IN CASH AND CLERKS

Leavitt Drawing Up Bill For Relief of County Officials.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—Senator Leavitt started in to draft a county government act on a large scale, with which an attempt will be made to please all the officers in Alameda county directly interested. This measure will be an amendment to the act now in force, which was framed many years ago and which has been, from time to time, amended to satisfy the requirements of the county growing in population and business.

The Senator is using as the ground work for this measure the showing of the needs of the several county officials as to assistants and salaries made in letters which he has already received or will yet receive from those officials.

The amendment will be completed tonight or tomorrow and will then be open to review by the officials interested. This may do away with the necessity for a caucus, because it may well be doubted if all the Alameda delegation could be induced to enter such a gathering if liberty to vote for or against any particular request made by officials, should thereby be drafted.

proposed corrections shall be made prior to the sale of the property for delinquent taxes. This may be done by the Assessor when that official is informed of an error, omission, defect in form or description, erroneous or double assessment or such defect affecting his property and swearing to that effect. The Auditor must then enter the amount of taxes due on the assessment and charge the Tax Collector therewith. The application and the affidavit of the property owner must be filed with the Tax Collector on the day the correction is made, and must reach the Supervisors before the next meeting of that body.

Mr. Dalton showed that this was a decided improvement over the present system, which is tedious and laborious. The bill was recommended and will be supported.

ESPEY BILL TOMORROW.

The race pool bill will come up for consideration in the Assembly tomorrow. When the committee got down to consider it, members claim they found little or no clamor for the measure and those who did have something to say about it could give but little information regarding it.

ALAMEDA ON SUFFRAGE.

The ladies who, for nearly two months, have been soliciting Senators to allow the people to vote upon the proposed amendment to the constitution permitting equal suffrage, were really crestfallen when they found that their proposition had failed to carry in the Senate by a vote of 22 to 14, a two-thirds majority made 27 votes necessary in the affirmative. Senators Lukens, Mattos and Simpson voted for and Senator Leavitt against the measure.

The Merchants' Exchange bill on county division has been introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Bliss.

BARS NEPOTISM IN ALL STATE OFFICES.

Leavitt Bill Preventing Department Heads From Giving Jobs to Wives and Families.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—"I will introduce a bill tomorrow making it unlawful for any State official, any member of the Legislature—any State officer, to appoint, to a salaried position under him, his wife, daughter, mother, father, sister or son."

This was the utterance of Senator Leavitt after an exhausting session of the Finance Committee yesterday, at which there had been a great deal of time expended in ascertaining the merits of numerous claims.

"I will join with you," said Senator Lukens, "in preventing the exposition of nepotism."

"It ought to have been done long ago," said another Senator.

"It's a case of high-handed robbery," said still another.

"I understand," said Senator Rowell, "that some of the people who hold offices under the heads of their family, never go near their offices and that some other person has to do some of their work."

"How many offenders do you know such a law would reach?" Senator Leavitt was asked.

"Oh, there are three or four of them right here in the Capitol," was the answer. "Just think of it. A man with a salary of $3000 giving an important position in his office to his wife. It is simply because of the money that is in it."

The Senator declined to mention the names of the officials who are availing themselves of this dual method of feathering their nest, because, he declared, he did not wish to embarrass anybody at the present time.

Mutterings of dissatisfaction on this subject have come from the Finance Committee on several occasions when a bill comes up asking for another assistant or possibly an increase in the salary of a present attaché. In an office where one of the names on the pay roll as the chief deputy is the wife of the principal. It has been said that this "deputy" appears at the office in question only during "session time," and that whatever work would fall to her has to be done by another attaché.

People well informed about the Capitol say there are several such cases. When the proposed law goes into effect, there will be several vacancies, the filling of which must have no taint of nepotism attaching to it.

MURPHY MAY BE WARDEN

Prison Directors May Have Honors For the New Turnkey.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—The appointment of Captain Murphy, late captain of the Guard of Folsom, turnkey at San Quentin, was the subject of conversation here today among a number of penologists and convict tamers, who are here on various errands connected with their respective State institutions, and, in the course of a desultory talk, one of the gentlemen said: "Murphy will climb higher in San Quentin than he did in Folsom and he may do it sooner than some of us imagine. Is Tompkins going to resign? No, he's not going to resign. Whatever he does, he'll never resign."

"The prison directors want to have a warden who can be both feared and respected. It is difficult to get a warden of almost any kind when a warden is wanted. I am satisfied that some of the members of the present board of directors see in Murphy some warden timber, and have installed him in San Quentin to cultivate him."

"Tompkins, you know, does not rank high with the present prison board. He has but little more respect for some of the members than he has for the convicts. I would not be surprised to see Murphy warden at San Quentin yet."

Gorky is a distinguished exponent, to release our brother-author and spare his services and genius for the future glory of his profession and of Russian literature throughout the world."

READERS AT FREE LIBRARY

EXCELLENT REPORT IS MADE BY THE LIBRARIAN.

The Library Trustees met last night, paid bills and transacted other routine business.

The board passed a resolution to have the Librarian pay to Assistant Librarian Miss Alice L. Peres an assurance of the board's sincere sympathy for her in her serious illness and the pleasure with which they hear of her improvement. Miss Peres is now at Folsom Hospital and has recently undergone a very serious operation.

The Librarian submitted his report for January, showing that he had appointed Walter Boesmer as messenger to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Allen.

The report shows that the total number of borrowers February 6 was 12,344, an increase over last month of 566. The total number of books issued for home use was 18,016. These were divided in about the usual proportion among the classes as made up by the library.

Additional to the library during the month aggregate 355 volumes and 249 volumes were discarded.

The Librarian in his report says: "During the month I have bought sixty-four books at a cost of $44.98. I am glad to say that each month of this fiscal year holds the record for that month, and that for the seven months since July 1 we have circulated 23,150 more books than for the corresponding period last year. The growth in juvenile circulation, due to the increased use of our books paid bills and transacted other routine business.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food, and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee and many other good things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous, sickly-looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantities any wholesome food will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain foods cause distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydro-chloric acid, diastase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels, and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly, and thus gives a much-needed rest and giving an appetite for the next meal.

Of people who travel nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the traveling public for years have pinned their faith to Stuart's Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full-sized packages, and any druggist from Maine to California, if his opinion were asked, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

CHINESE EMPEROR IS FAVORABLE

PEKIN, February 15.—The Emperor of China has recently approved a memorial presented by the president of the Board of Revenue, advising the establishment of official parlaments, where matters of importance, both foreign and domestic, can be discussed by the Chief Metropolitan officials, members of the Hanlin College, the various boards of censors and the grand secretaries. This new council is not to hold discussions at regular intervals, but only when commanded by the Emperor. Its consultations will be carried on by correspondence and not verbally.

The formation of this new so-called parliament is regarded by the foreign community as entirely illusory; useless, but interesting, as an indication that China now recognizes the inadequacy of the existing government machinery.

Lamentations Heard From Victims of Women Students' Wit in the "Pelican."

BERKELEY, February 15.—As was expected, after the appearance of the women students' edition of the "Pelican," there are now to be heard wails and lamentations from the many victims of the women's wit and pointed pens. There is no doubt about the sensation the "Pelican" has created. It lampoons Captain Nance and many others of the faculty in delightfully free and easy fashion.

Captain Nance, in martial uniform, brandishing a big sword, is pictured standing in the center of a magnificent figure of Cupid. The little god, made man's size for the occasion, is preparing to "swat" Nance with a club in which is imbedded a big, sharp nail, and beneath is the following verse, apropos of the usual valentine gush:

TO MY LOVE, for a little love
And Cupid's golden chance,
We cannot fail to take a thing
At hand, Brav' Sutton Nance.

Leo D. Bishop, editor of the Occident magazine, suffers for his tenacity in rejecting some contributors' effusions by being cartooned posing astride a fence, with this rhyme beneath:

A Bishop there was, and he sat on a fence
(Neither as you or I)
Tying for any one's confidence
(They called him a man without any sense)

But the Bishop thought he was immense
(But neither as you or I)
Tying for any one's confidence
(They called him a man without any sense)

James Force, captain of the varsity football team, commonly called "Jim" Force, or "Sunny Jim," is pictured in football costume while the staff poet carols of his achievements thus:

You are certainly stunning in a football suit,
But there are things, of course,
You've tackled many and you've been Downed.

For ladies are not won by Force
A specimen gibe at the genus man is the following dialogue:

Easterner—The University of California in San Francisco?
U. C. Man—Yes, most of the time.

"The slouch" gets his portion in the following pointed verselet:

THE SLOUCH
You roam around in cadaverous
Hands in your pockets deep
You wear soft slippers, like little boys,
And neckties that are cheap.

Sometimes a sweater's good enough,
Your shoes with dust are gray
You must admit that you look tough—
When do you get your pay?

A double page is given up to thumbnail cartoons, drawn by Camille D'Evelyn Johnston, and in the bunch is found many a dig at professors and prominent male students. Walter de Leon's "cute" curl is pictured, "Gus" meet these expenses. This will probably be held at the building when it is finished.

Following are the trustees: George Oakes, president, C. P. Van Dyke, R. Reid, Fred Allen, and T. B. Russell.

TO TAKE "SIDE DEGREE"
As the guests of the Haywards Circle, the Elmhurst Companions of the Forest will entertain the members of the Tuesday evening. The members will then be dubbed "Knights and Ladies of the Round Table," which title is already possessed by the Haywards Companions.

The exercises will be carried through by a degree team under T. H. Thorne, "king," and Mrs. F. E. Perera, "queen" of the Haywards band.

After the visitors have received their degree they will be entertained with a banquet and dance arrangements are in charge of the following social committee: Mrs. S. Drews, Mrs. M. Patterson and Mrs. M. Lawrence. The affair will take place at Native Sons' hall.

SPECIAL POLICE OFFICERS DISCHARGED
BERKELEY, February 15.—All special police officers appointed during the last three months have been discharged by the Board of Trustees. Lack of funds to pay their salaries, amounting to $350 a month, is alleged as cause for the action. The town is unable to give a financial aid.

The street committee of the Trustees recommended that all streets from Gilman to Dwight way, to the bay be opened, to improve their sewage facilities. The matter was referred to the Town Engineer to suggest a proper method of procedure.

George Leslie's application for a saloon license on Adeline street, near the town line, was denied.

Electric lights were ordered placed at Adeline and Harrison streets, Grant and Ward street, Parker and Etna street, McKinley and Alston way, Lorena and Russell streets.

Police Johnson's defense of himself against the charge that he had promised to wed a Miss Lord, although already a married man, was heard and Johnson was dismissed from the force.

CONCEALED WEAPONS.
NEW YORK, February 15.—An ordinance has been adopted by the Board of Aldermen empowering the city magistrates to assess a fine of $250 on persons carrying concealed weapons. The former penalty was $10 and had little tendency, according to the police, toward breaking up the practice.

The new ordinance empowers city magistrates not only to impose the fine, but to commit the carrier of heavier weapons for six months. The ordinance gives the Police Commissioners power to issue permits for carrying concealed weapons as at present.

COACH QUESTION

Final Settlement of Matter By University Students' Committee.

BERKELEY, February 15.—Members of the executive committee of the A. S. U. C. last evening ratified the new intercollegiate agreement with Stanford and discussed plans for securing an Eastern football coach for the season of 1905. The committee also set March 7 as an election day for students to vote on the proposed plan for an undergraduate student affairs committee and on examination pledge system.

Present among those who appeared in behalf of the new agreement was James A. Force, captain of the 1905 Varsity football eleven. Force used the committee to ratify the agreement, so that an Eastern coach might be secured as early in the year as possible before the supply of good men is entirely exhausted. He also pointed out the merits of the new system and impressed upon the members of the committee the necessity of prompt action.

After some further discussion the matter was put to a vote and the agreement was ratified. Colonel Edwards casting his vote against the motion for ratification. Two members were absent: Moffitt and Heitmueller.

Now remains for Stanford to take similar action. It is thought that the student committee of that institution will also ratify the agreement, as it is understood that a majority of the members are in favor of the innovation. Just as soon as Stanford takes action, the system of pledges in examinations. It is believed that these plans will bring the same results as the honor system in vogue in other colleges.

MOCK AT FACULTY

Sophomores 'Rehearse Burlesque Wherein Professors are "Guyed."

BERKELEY, February 15.—The entire cast of the sophomore burlesque held its first rehearsal in the Macdonough Theater yesterday on the stage on which the show will be given Friday evening. The three acts were carried out in full. It was not a dress rehearsal, however, and was held on the empty stage.

The managers of the burlesque have given hints as to some of the principal hits that will be made in the play. Important among these will be the satirical manner of representing the military department, the sophomores coming in for their full share.

There will be some highly entertaining guard mounting in which rather uncouth-looking student soldiers are reprimanded for certain peculiarities of dress and general demeanor. The artillery and signal corps also bloom out in some of their most characteristic poses.

Two important characters in the burlesque will be Clever Clarence Rostrom and Steadfast Steve Goldenstein, who are "somebody else's affairs committee," always trying to unravel deep mysteries. Their greatest stunt is to kidnap the queen and lock her up in a chicken coop.

The important personage will be Shakespeare, imitating a prominent professor who is the guiding spirit of the University Ranters' (Glee Club) on the annual defect tour. They present a miracle play entitled the "Hudsonian." Professor Shakespeare is also on the art and dramatic committee of the University.

The burlesque will have no songs. The only music will be that of an incidental character given by the regular theater orchestra.

CHAIR OF MUSIC

Student Editor Urges Establishing of a New Department.

BERKELEY, February 15.—The establishing of a chair of music at the State University, and the unification of all the musical affairs and departments of the colleges is urged today by Editor Loeb of the Daily Californian in the following editorial:

"The University should have a department of music, if it consists of only one man. A great part of the work of any university is to create or develop refinement of taste, and this work is not to be done solely by offering courses in philosophy, or languages, or literature. A great educational institution fosters every art. The simplest way to develop a taste for good music is by giving concerts as frequently as possible under the auspices of the University. The Sunday afternoon concerts in the Greek Theater are a step in the right direction, but the various musical organizations are independently striving for the same end. But there is a lack of unity which is fatal to the cause. Every musical club bearing the name of the University should be brought together with every other, and the consolidated musical clubs be put under the instruction of one capable musical director. The ideal method is to establish a chair of music, just as there is a chair of elocution and a dramatic committee which are making more effective the work formerly undertaken by individual classes and societies. If an instructor of music is a financial impossibility there is no such objection to a musical director paid as now by the musical clubs themselves, or to an amalgamation of all the clubs. Under one director the musical talent of the University can unite with a common end in view—the production of music that is worth while. There are among us enough musicians to make great things possible. Appoint an instructor of music, or place all musical clubs under one director who will plan for them to work concertedly in the same direction, and the University will rightfully earn her title as a patron of good music, as she is already known for her influence in elevating the drama."

Among the trees to be planted on Arbor Day will be a row of either maple or elms, to define the boundaries of the High School grounds. Last year palms were set out on the edge of the campus, and this year the trees will be planted inside the walls.

The committee having charge of the subscriptions for the free bed in the local sanatorium reported to the Civic Section that a total of $200 had been subscribed for the maintenance of the bed this year, which is half of the sum required. The free bed has been maintained for three years by the Section and has proved a very valuable institution.

PREPARING FOR ARBOR DAY IN ALAMEDA.

Adelphian Club Engaged With Two Worthy Projects—Notes of the Day.

ALAMEDA, February 15.—The ladies of the Civic Section of the Alameda Adelphian Club are now engaged with two very worthy projects, the celebration of Arbor Day in this city and the maintenance of a tree bed in the Alameda Sanatorium. Committees have been appointed to care for both activities, and their reports at the regular meeting yesterday were very interesting.

The ladies of the Civic Section were prime movers in the observance of Arbor Day here last year, when they devoted all the money in their treasury to the fund for tree-planting. This year they are taking quite as active a part in the preparations for the celebration of Arbor Day, which will take place on March 7th. It will be the anniversary of the birthday of Luther Burbank, the horticulturist and will be known as "Burbank Day."

The ladies are planning to have planted at each school house in the city a tree in honor of Luther Burbank. In addition, seeds of the Shasta daisy will be distributed to the children, and planted in beds in the grounds of all the public schools. This daisy is one of Mr. Burbank's wonderful creations, being a cross between large marguerites and the wild daisy. Next summer it is anticipated that every school yard will be beautified with a plot of these flowers.

At each of the schools, as a part of the day's exercises, a paper on Luther Burbank and his achievements will be read.

Among the trees to be planted on Arbor Day will be a row of either maple or elms, to define the boundaries of the High School grounds. Last year palms were set out on the edge of the campus, and this year the trees will be planted inside the walls.

The committee having charge of the subscriptions for the free bed in the local sanatorium reported to the Civic Section that a total of $200 had been subscribed for the maintenance of the bed this year, which is half of the sum required. The free bed has been maintained for three years by the Section and has proved a very valuable institution.

PICK POCKETS ARE SILENT

THREE MEN ARE IDENTIFIED BY DETECTIVE WALTERS OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The past records of Morris Murphy, George M. Thompson and Albert Norton, the three alleged pickpockets who on Sunday held up J. D. Inlow and his daughter on the Seventh street local train, taking from them more than $20 in coin, are coming to light. Yesterday evening T. L. Walters of the department of identification of the San Francisco police, identified Norton as a famous Eastern crook by the name of "Patty Irish," whose deeds had often been the sensation in police circles.

Thompson's name is said to be Howard. He is also alleged to have been an old timer at the pickpocket business. Murphy is not yet placed by the police. He is said to be a bartender in the Union district in San Francisco.

J. W. Daniels of 111 Montgomery street, San Francisco, states he lost $55 on the 19 o'clock train from San Francisco on the same morning that Inlow was robbed. The police believe that the trio were responsible for the crime.

Thompson was arrested in Portland, Oregon, where he had been playing his trade, but escaped punishment on habeas corpus proceedings.

Norton has been arrested a score of times but has escaped conviction as a rule.

The fourth man of the trio has not yet been found. He is thought to have got

WIFE TANGLES TESTIMONY

ELEANOR KOEHN AT CORONER'S INQUEST MAKES CONFLICT-ING STATEMENTS.

The coroner's inquest was held last night on the body of Edward R. Koehn, the young husband who was shot Sunday morning by his wife, Eleanor, and the verdict of the jury was that he came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by his wife without pretending to justify or blame the act.

It came to light yesterday that Mrs. Koehn declared immediately after the shooting that her husband had committed suicide.

Pressed by Mrs. Charles Kruger, the wife confessed she had slain her spouse, saying: "I shot him for my honor and protection."

Such was Mrs. Kruger's testimony at the coroner's inquest. Mrs. Kruger was the neighbor of the Koehns. Sunday morning she was attracted to Mrs. Koehn, who was running across the street excitedly. Mrs. Kruger testified as follows: "When I went across the street I met Mrs. Koehn, her mother and her brother, I asked her what was the matter, and Mrs. Koehn said: 'He went into the closet and saw he couldn't get out and he shot himself.' I said: 'I can't believe he shot himself,' I said."

Mrs. Koehn looked at me and repeated: 'Yes, he did; he shot himself.' 'I don't believe he did,' I again declared. 'Mrs. Koehn kept staring at me and suddenly shouted: 'Yes, I shot him for my honor and protection.'"

Peter Paganotto testified that the pistol which his sister used belonged to her father. How she got possession of it he brother asserted he did not know.

There was a quarrel the night before the shooting between Koehn and his father-in-law, the older man making charges concerning his daughter's illness that the husband denied. Charles Kruger, who was present, advised Koehn to go away. Kruger told of this at the inquest, and added:

"The man parted in anger. Mrs. Koehn stayed at my house. I urged Koehn to get away until things had quieted down. They seemed on the eve of separation. In a general way Mrs. Koehn blamed her mother-in-law, while Koehn blamed his wife's people. Koehn told me he intended to move away."

There were frequent quarrels between Koehn and his wife, said aged Mrs. Christina Koehn, the young man's mother.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin explained concerning the bullet wound and the finding of the powder marks on Koehn's face, an indication, the surgeon said, that the pistol must have been held close to the head.

Petrolman I. D. Tobin testified as to the finding of the body. The jury's verdict reflected that Koehn's death was caused by a gunshot wound inflicted by Mrs. "Lena" Koehn. The jurors were John T. Bell, J. T. Dille, John Ellmanburg, J. P. Burton and William W. Durbin.

Koehn's funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the lady's hall, 2529 Mission street, San Francisco, of Mission Lodge No. 129, F. and A. M., of which he was a member.

The couple that Koehn had been known as Theodore Kane. His mother testified last night that in his youth he called himself Koehn. "Kane" was a sort of Anglicized Koehn.

PLAY A SUCCESS

"Mother Goose," Klaw and Erlanger's brilliant spectacular production will begin its third and last week, but one, at the Grand Opera House Sunday night, and without all signs fail, that theater will be tested to its utmost capacity at every performance, for it is questionable if local theater-goers have ever been shown a more brilliant spectacle, or one containing as much rollicking fun and constant and consistent fun along with a constant rally of good humor, spontaneous and exuberant. Imagine a play of that kind and that of the kind composed of three acts and these latter divided into seventeen elaborately beautiful scenes—that "Mother Goose." The last is one of the best ever presented. Klaw & Erlanger in any of their musical attractions, the main factor being Joseph Cowburn, who plays the title character with so muchunction that the most blasé theater-goer is compelled to laugh at every line and every scene of this continually grotesque, humorous comedian. William H. Macart and Harry Kelly, second Mr. Cowburn's efforts with a go with and constantly keep them in the same pace as the leader. Neva Ayman and Corina are beautiful in the play, and the play is full of action. Edith St. Clair is cute and pleasing. In fact, the entire cast is an exception one. The famous "Triglati" are seen in their beautiful and graceful posings.

TELLS ABOUT THE NATIONAL BANKS.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS GIVEN
BEFORE THE AC-COUNTANTS.

At the meeting of accountants and bookkeepers last evening, Mr. L. G. Burpee, cashier of the First National Bank, gave a very instructive and entertaining talk upon national banks. He stated that on September 30, 1902, there were 5457 national banks in the United States with capital of $777,741,335. The first charter was issued in 1863. A total of 7417 began business at the same time, only 416 or 5.6 per cent of which have been in hands of receivers. The creditors of 346 of these have been paid 78 per cent of their claims. Up to September 30th, in 1904, 445 national banks were chartered.

Under the act of Congress of March 14, 1900, national banks are authorized to incorporate with a minimum capital of $25,000 and to issue national bank currency if they wished to do so, to the full amount of the paid up capital stock on deposit with the United States Treasurer of United States bonds to like amount.

To obtain a charter from the Government while applicants need not be millionaires they must at least be men of standing and character so as to command the confidence of the people and the Government. They must have the endorsement of a United States Senator, Representative, Judge of Court, or other prominent officer. At least five must apply. The minimum capital must be from $25,000 to $200,000, above the population where the bank is to be established. At least one-half of the capital must be paid in cash. The word national must appear in the title and the charter runs for twenty years. There are to be at least five directors and three-fourths of these must reside in the State, Territory or district where the bank is located, and each must own at least ten shares of the stock. If the bank is to issue currency it need not deposit bonds to the full amount of its stock, but at least a quarter or a third must be so deposited, that is, enough to cover the issue. Almost all banks issue the currency because of the profits in handling the money represented by it. But the speaker subsequently explained, the Government only gains through loss of the currency by fire or other destructive cause, notwithstanding the popular notion to the contrary.

The expense of the plates for printing the currency is borne by the bank, in paper and the printing is furnished by the Government. Taxes from one-half of one to one per cent per year are imposed on the average circulation. Bank denominations are $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. Not more than a third can be $5,000 notes. It takes about forty days to fill an order for a new circulation. The bank is numbered and its number appears on every one of its notes. Five per cent of the circulation is deposited as a redemption fund which must always be kept intact during the life of the bank. Should a bank go out of existence there will still remain on deposit in Washington enough of its funds to meet any currency outstanding, and thus unredeemed.

Which the speaker said, which the National Bank notes as good as gold.

The Comptroller of the Currency requires a report of the condition of the bank every six months, and as much often as he pleases. There is a penalty of $100.00 per day for all delay over five days in reporting. It is sworn to by president or cashier (usually the latter), and must be signed by three other directors. The report must be published in the paper must go to the Comptroller. The Comptroller receives very minute reports, showing exact nature of the loans and of the security for the same, and also of the bonds and real estate owned. The banks must report within ten days of a dividend, full particulars of same and a statement of the condition of the bank. The net profits must be carried to surplus fund until the taxes amount to at least 20 per cent of the stock. Loans to one party cannot exceed one-tenth of stock. Reserve in cash must be kept on hand, 25 per cent in the larger cities, either at home or one-half of it in New York.

Banks are examined twice a year by the National Bank Examiners appointed by the Comptroller. For the State of California there are two, one for the first six months, the other for the second six. No notice is given of the coming examinations. The examiners are paid by the banks in proportion to assets. If a bank is a designated depository it must deposit U. S. bonds to amount of government deposits as security.

One-third of the stockholders in these banks are women and they own one-fifth of all stock.

At the close of the address Mr. Burpee answered many questions drawn out by his remarks, and after a vote of thanks had been extended to him, he was duly elected an honorary member of the association.

WANTS $15,000
FOR HIS FINGERS

The hearing of the damage suit of William Muford against the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company for $15,000 for the loss of the fingers of his right hand by the falling of a pile driver on them was continued this morning before Judge Hall and a jury.

According to the statement of Muford, he is a carpenter by occupation and was employed by the company in the capacity. He was sent up to Vallejo, where the company was engaged in building a wharf, and says that he was sent up on the pile driver to the height of some forty or fifty feet and told to fit a ring over the top of a pile that was about to be driven. He protested that he knew nothing about such work, but he was told that they would look out for him and so he consented to go. He measured the top of the pile with a ring and called down to the foreman and the foreman told him to put the ring on the pile. He placed over the top of the pile to keep it from slipping.

Then before he knew it, the heavy weight fell. The ring slipped just after he had adjusted it and he reached back to place it properly in position and while he was in the act of doing it the weight fell on his hand and took off his fingers. He says that he cannot work at his trade as his hand is destroyed and puts the entire responsibility of the accident on the company and its employees.

R. M. Fitzgerald and Carl Abbott are his attorneys.

MRS. HARRIET PEEK CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Harriet Bernilla Peek, a respected resident of the county, whose home was formerly at Sunol, died last night at 554 Fourteenth street, where she had been under medical care for the last several weeks. She was seventy-eight years of age and of New York City.

She was the mother of Mrs. George

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very dependent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

Mrs. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to get out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

MISS CORA GOODE, 355 E. Chicago Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free to all. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

Nesbauer, widow of the late county surveyor.

In her last illness she was attended by Dr. Pauline Nesbauer. The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.
It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y. did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me. Best medicine for the stomach and liver under guarantee by Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets at 50c a bottle."

WINTER ECZEMA

Gentlemen—I suffered with Eczema on the hands and feet for a year. It was not only annoying and painful, but very unsightly, and I disliked to go out in the streets. I tried at least a dozen soaps and salves, which did me absolutely no good, and became very much discouraged, until I read in the papers of the cures performed through the use of S. S. S., and determined to give it a month's trial at least. I am pleased to state that I soon noticed a slight improvement, sufficient to decide me to keep it up. After the use of six bottles my skin was as soft and smooth as an infant's. This was a year ago, and I have never had any trouble since.

I tried doctor's medicines, salves, washes and all kinds of local applications, treating Eczema of long standing, but with only temporary relief. The itching and burning from Eczema was more than I can describe. Many nights I was unable to sleep on account of this awful itching. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and after taking it for some time the dry eczematous eruptions disappeared and I was entirely relieved of this awful itching and burning. It is a boon to Eczema sufferers and I can conscientiously recommend it to them, believing confidently that a permanent cure will be effected in all such cases where it is taken according to directions.

All skin diseases have their seasons; some are active in the summer, while others lie dormant until cold weather, when the first breath of winter brings them to life and they remain to torment us until spring. Through the long hot months Winter Eczema sleeps in the system, and when cold weather begins it breaks out. The head, hands and feet are the parts usually attacked, but other parts of the body may be affected by this "flesh fire." The skin becomes feverish, hard and dry, cracks open and often bleeds, and the itching is terrible. While the trouble shows on the skin the cause is far deeper. This eruption is but nature's way of telling that the fountain of all health—the blood—is diseased and must have relief. It is filled with uric acid and other poisons which are forced through the pores, causing the natural oils, which should keep the skin soft and pliable, to dry up. These acids are constantly forming in the system to be absorbed by the blood, and thus the trouble is kept up. The treatment of this disease with local applications, such as washes, salves, powders, etc., is useless in effecting a cure, because they cannot get to the seat or beginning of the trouble. The best they can do is to give the patient relief for a little while. The blood must be cleansed of all acids and poisons and the system toned and built up before a cure can be had. S. S. S. cures by going into the blood, searching out all foreign matter, and making it strong and healthy again. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and therefore cures this disease safely as well as surely, and from a condition of torture the patient is brought to one of healthful pleasure. Book on Skin Diseases mailed free, and our physicians will give advice, without charge, to all sufferers.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW OF THE BONDING SCHEME.

Reasons Advanced to Show That a Water Plant Should Not Burden Taxpayers.

(San Francisco Call, February 15th.)

The proposition to bond the city of Oakland for nearly $6,000,000 to buy a theoretical water supply is undergoing quite efficient discussion over there. The Call has always stood for a definite policy in respect to municipal socialism by public ownership of public utilities. If the people want such ownership they are entitled to two safeguards against loss and maladministration. The first of these is to be had by eliminating competition. It is nowhere regarded as a proper policy to leave a private competitor in the field. Wherever this is neglected loss and trouble result.

The other safeguard is found in basing the bonds upon the plant they create, leaving the public credit free. Where this is done the cost of the plant and of its maintenance is paid by its users and it is all paid in the rate charged to them, and none of it can be charged to them as taxpayers. When they pay part of it as ratepayers and part of it as taxpayers, the cost is concealed from them and they have no means at all of knowing the cost of the service.

This plan of making the plant carry its own credit and cost of maintenance is generally accepted as a proper and most necessary policy where municipal ownership is undertaken. Especially is it so in American cities, where it is hard to separate politics and business. The fact that The Call advocated these two safeguards long before Oakland took up municipal ownership does not deter the organ of municipal socialism in that city from publishing an attack upon what it calls our "sophistry" in the matter, nor from imputing to this paper motives that have no place in its policy.

The position of The Call may not appeal to fanatics, nor is it intended to do so. But that it appeals to business common sense is evident in the very numerous expressions of business men in our sister city. Our critic says that the seawall bonds rest upon the revenues of that improvement, because of a legislative act, submitting that plan to a vote of the people, by whom it was ratified. This is true, and it is also an endorsement of The Call's position by the people of California. It proves that whenever and wherever the people have the opportunity they will continue to endorse it. The voters of Oakland cast a good majority in favor of making the seawall pay its own bonds.

Give them a chance to vote again and they will apply the same principle to municipal ownership. But it is said by our Oakland censor that "there is no legislation and authority empowering Oakland" to vote bonds based upon the plant they create. Of that we are perfectly aware. Nor was there any such authority for the people of the State to vote upon the seawall bonds until it was legally conferred. It can be given to Oakland in the same way in which it was given to the State, and when it is Oakland will ratify the views of The Call as it did by its vote on the seawall.

In the further exposure of our sophistry the critic says: "If the water bonds be general bonds of the city, then the people must pay their interest and provide the sinking fund," and the taxpayer "must pay for the municipal water whether he uses it or not." This is a singular argument to make in favor of mortgaging the city for nearly $6,000,000, because taxpayers who get no benefit from it must pay for it anyway. If the water campaign over there have any element of amusement in it, this might be put among the humors of the contest. There is no greater violation of natural justice than to compel a man to pay for what is of no benefit to him. The reasons given for making non-users pay for a municipal plant are the very reasons why the users only should pay for it. They, too, are entitled to the protection they will get in economical management of the plant, which can only be if its whole cost is charged in the rates, and none in the taxes.

The people of Oakland have before them now an example of what political water management means. They are asked to vote a mortgage of nearly $6,000,000 on their property, but are denied the right to see or know the contract for which it is to be spent. Fairness and justice require that such a contract be framed and made, subject to ratification by the people. Speaking in behalf of the taxpayers of that city, we deprecate this refusal to let them see the contract for which they are to pay. Why they are not permitted to know what it is, and what it provides for, no one has explained. It is especially hard on those taxpayers who must pay for the proposed plant, though they will not use it, and is contemptuous treatment of all taxpayers.

We care nothing for the corporation that now supplies Oakland with water, except that it is not good public policy to destroy property. Nor do we care anything for the corporation which wants to sell a non-existing water plant to the city and refuses to let the people pass upon the contract which would reveal its plans, and its method of constructing that plant which has no existence at present. To us it is merely a public question of interest everywhere, to which we apply business principles that are also general and applicable everywhere.

The man or newspaper with nothing to offer but invective and vituperation may not be followed safely in such matters. Personal abuse is satisfactory only to the man who uses it as a weapon in debate. It is the malevolent overflow of a vicious disposition, or the weedy product of a barren mind. Men of sense are not influenced by it, and it would be a foolish thing for any city to take its mood from those who use no other weapon.

RESIGNS FROM LEAGUE TICKET

At a meeting of the Municipal League City Central Committee last evening the resignation of L. N. Cobble-dick, candidate for Councilman-at-large has been received and accepted. Pressure of private business was assigned by Cobble-dick as the reason for wishing to withdraw from the ticket.

The Finance Committee of the Municipal League held a short session last night at the headquarters at which candidates for the city offices were present. Some details for the prosecution of the campaign were arranged and the City Central Committee will hold a meeting next Thursday evening, at which time the vacancy on the ticket will probably be filled.

WANT TO HELP AGED PROFS.

RECENT DOES NOT BELIEVE THEY OUTLIVE USEFULNESS AT SEVENTY.

Garret W. McEnerny, Regent of the University of California, does not believe that a professor has necessarily outlived his usefulness at 70 years of age, or that the State, on the other hand, should be bound to retire any member of the faculty on pension without some power of discretion.

At the meeting of the Board yesterday Regent McEnerny gave notice that at the next session he would move to amend section 174 of the laws of the University by changing the mandatory "shall" to "may." He would have the section read as follows:

There was barely a quorum in attendance yesterday, the members present being Dr. C. N. Ellsworth, Garret W. McEnerny, F. W. Dohrmann, J. A. Britton, R. J. Taussig, J. B. Reinsteiner and F. C. Korte. Dohrmann presided.

The following summary of financial transactions during January was reported: Receipts—United States Agricultural Experiment fund, $3750; State of California, $12,025.49; Investments, $38,820.65; miscellaneous, $218.01; donations, $9117.62; student fees not subject to rebate, $2251.50; student fees subject to partial rebate, $15,922.05; fees from the department of medicine, $1750.35; turning over of funds, as Sather money, loans, etc., $5931.17; total, $29,848.74.

Disbursements—Salaries, $27,929.22; administrative expenses, including library, printing office, repairs and University site improvements, $654.55; departmental running expenses, $4,480.74; disbursements from special funds, $36,525.44; total, $83,190.28; excess of receipts over disbursements, $21,658.46.

The following recommendations of President Wheeler were adopted: That E. A. Gibbs be appointed assistant in civil engineering, at $500 per annum; that R. C. Howell be appointed assistant in physics, to succeed A. H. Mowbray, at $500; that H. C. Curtis be appointed Carnegie assistant in spectroscopy, at $75 a month, to be paid out of the Carnegie Institution grant for research at the Lick Observatory.

Resolutions from various places in the interior where farmers' institutions have been held expressing appreciation of this branch of University work and urging that the Legislature be appealed to for an appropriation for a continuation of the instruction were read.

SOCKEYE SALMON. OLYMPIA, Wash., February 15.—Consideration of measures to prevent the extermination of the sockeye salmon, which constitutes the best part of the salmon pack of Puget Sound and the Fraser river, has brought over half a hundred persons interested in the fishing industry to Olympia to appear before the joint fisheries commission. The big packing companies favor a bill now before the Legislature fixing a six weeks' closed season, or a practical suspension of sockeye fishing during the year 1906 and 1908, in conjunction with British Columbia, which has already passed a law embracing those features. The independent and individual fishermen oppose the closed season, and have sent a delegation of thirty-six hours in all years, claiming that the bill proposed by the big companies would bankrupt the small canners and that such drastic measures are not necessary. No decision was reached by the committee.

Mr. Joseph M. Costello, junior member of the firm and one of the brightest young merchants on the coast, accompanied Mr. Hayes. Mr. Costello makes these trips periodically to keep in touch with the fashion center. When the extensive alterations now being made are completed the old reliable O'Connor, Moffitt & Co. will have one of the handsomest stores on the coast.
